this does sound vaguely familiar, i might have heard it before that they fleetingly considered it.
not sure of the veracity, though.

i do know that they chose english over german by a narrow margin. interesting/scary to think of what would have happened in ww2 if the usa's language had been german...

I think I saw this in last week's Yated.

BTW the "Jews and Joes" site linked above seems to be some sort of missionary Jews-for-J type site.

hi! I got around to translating the Gettysburg Address, it would look something like this:

.????? ?????? ?????? ?? ?????? ??? ??? ?????? ???"?? ??"?? ?????? ?????? (????"?) [???"?? ???"??] ???

.????? ?????? ?????????? ?????????????????????? ???, ?????????? ?????????? ?????, ?? ???, ?????? ?????????? ??????
????????, ?????????? ?????????, ??? ??? ???, ?????? ??????
