You have to check the box with the prayer shawls it's near the entrance beside the Kippot. Also, Rebbetzin Anne invites you upstairs for some fresh potato Kugel in honor of [not sure what].

Shabbos in its glorious splendor is upon us.

I can feel her breathing.

See the silk luster.

I can smell her flavorful cooking.

I can almost touch her warmth.

Ah that glorious embrace.

Hashem and I.

The Kallah.

Holding hands.

Trusting to eternity.

Loving, giving, grace.

Purity, freedom, space.

I can't breathe, true love.

Lecha Doidi.

Go now, Lover.

Likras Kallah

Pnei Shabbos nikablah!!!

And as the heiliger Ropsheetzer said on Pesach Sheni: "Mazel tov! Tanchem iz a choosin gevoren!" And he explained that in the siddur for sfiras ha'omer for pesach sheni it says to concentrate on the words "tanchem" and "choosin".

He did not say to whom. But a little birdie told me the secret (sorry, can't publicise, it's a secret).
