The NUDNIK asks #1

We all know what a nudnik is! The shlemiel is the one who spills the soup on the shlemazal, the

Well the nudnik is back with another question: you know the term "your splitting hairs" or "hair splitting", what is it referring to?

Is it referring to the process of splitting a bunch of hairs from each other, to single out one pure strand?

Or is it referring to (an even more difficult task) the process of attempting to split the actual single strand of hair, into two?
nudnik wants to know what kind of soup it was!

All nudniks and nudnik sympathizers, are welcome to address this question, as well as use this thread to post questions of similar style and importance! :-D

All u nudniks who are scared to come out the closet, can just post as nudnik sympathizers ;-)

That must have been in the days before smart phones and what's app, so he had to take the computer with him instead. Which makes me wonder.....

Zemmy, are you really that old?! (I didn't think giraffes ahd such a long life span!!)

So the sheilah this year is as follows.

It is known that the minhag here in EY is that the rugelach that have sesame seeds on them are eaten together with pepsi. So the sheilah is,

Do the hamantashen here also have to have sesame seeds, because of minhag hamakom?

If they do, then do they need to be eaten with Pepsi? is the Pepsi a din in the rugelah or in the sesame seeds?

if you have enough yayin afterwards you can eat as many non dietetic hamantashen sesame seeds and coke as you want and they won't last long enough to make you fat

But then there is the massive shailah of "Were you yotzei the chiyuv of Hamantashen?"

Is the chiyuv the swallowing, which would mean that one was yotzei, OOOOOOOOOOORRRRR is the stomach ache afterwards (from it going through the entire digestive system) part of the mitzvah?

if you drink enough then all the massive shailos fall by the wayside (ki yetain b'kos eino yis'halech b'meysharim) and you are patur from all mitzvos

The chiyuv is definitely the latter, but the stomach ache must come within 18 minutes of eating the first bite m'drabanan. d'raisa 30.
