

Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by mr. emunah - 19 Jun 2013 18:09

this is a thread in honour of our english phriends.

They have fish n' chips there...

=====
=====

Re: Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by TehillimZugger - 26 Aug 2014 18:49

Hierosylem Est Perdita?!

What millenia are YOU living in? They've Guhttt awesome ahksenttts.

=====
=====

Re: Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by ZemirosShabbos - 26 Aug 2014 21:28

you sound like you're singing sol a kokosh with a sefardi pronunciation

=====
=====

Re: Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by cordnoy - 15 Sep 2014 22:24

Football (soccer b'la'az) is a game played by men (maybe not)

Gotta run, hit da ground (and cry like a baby, as if you were hit by a truck, or a defensive lineman)and get up again (after they give the other team a yellow card)

Preparation durin' the week is a definite must

and so it is with recovery from lust.

Gotta shvitz, gotta train, gotta eat what is cooked

Otherwise, you gonna get 'booked'

Guys on the other side can be pretty tough

Scrownin' and growlin' their looks pretty gruff (some that even bite when you get too close)

If you ain't prepared and you're just skin and bone

Da coach (memories) will bench you - you'll be sittin' alone

you go on that field with a sly silly smile

Midfielder will kick you - for at least half a mile

And so it is when we wake up each morn

And that desire hits - I wanna watch porn

Are you prepared? Did you work on the steps?

Or were you preoccupied with women and sex?

The ultimate goal is to score a goal (Goal! Gooooooool! Goala!)

But a cheerleader, a mascot or a silly José Carlos Araújo (or was it Galvão Bueno)

Won't get you those points if you're in the band

Playin' the game with the ball in your hand (it will give the other team a free kick)

Yippee I, yippee o; Go team go!

Silly jumpin' jacks - performin' a show

Makes you feel good - but it takes no courage

Unless you join the big boys on the line of scrimmage (or is that rugby?).

It may be a sport, but it ain't for no patsies (ummmm....)

No style points awarded - unlike the Grammys

All boys are welcome to don the t-shirt and shorts

It is what they all dream of - to be part of this sport.

While the ultimate prize is one hundred and ten meters and into the net

It's a large playin' field - must never get upset

Can't do it all at once with a goal-kick 'all the ay'

Do it methodically (and borin')- must keep our feelin's at bay

Several yards at a time - over and over (backwards as well)

Focused and vigilant - cant afford a turnover

Maintain possession - your opponent gets weary

Every ounce of confidence - it begins to get scary

Again and again - you kick that damn ball

you wish it was indoor and there would be a wall

Not sure on the nimshal, but one thing's certainly known

To score points - you gotta get outta your comfort zone.

Offside is the funniest - is it dark or light green?

Do they have a special lawn mower machine?

I wish there would be delay of game penalty

For then we would see some activity

If you keep at what's easy - it'll be good for a while

But eventually you'll return to your old lifestyle

Try somethin' new - that you won't necessarily like for otherwise, you will have that same old psych

Lust that's inside of us - it wants the big fix

"Connect with me; make me whole" - we were true addicts

Reality driven inward - the connection was magic

the remorse and emptiness - the cycle was tragic

Manchester United is where they all strive

Watchin' a game - is this still or live?

Between red and yellow - nobody really knows

It depends on your scream or the smell of your toes

When there is finally a score (except in that Brazil game when there was a touchdown scored in the first half)

Everybody wants more

But there aint gonna be

For three whistles were blown by the referee (why? cuz he decided its time)

Perhaps they're not men or a real strong bloke
But it requires persistence or their tank will be broke
The noise can be deafenin' with the sound of that thing
It sounds like millions of bees - all set to sting.

End on a high note - the Arsenal shuffle
One can get Piccadilly - if his feathers he does ruffle
And yet, the focus gotta remain on the play that's ahead and that decision is really a "life or death"

Since I'm USA and all sports I am likin'
I root for the teams - men and even women
And this is one post where Cordnoy could use a word which is banned, and nobody will blow up
So, let's 'Hope' she could block all those shots and bring home that World Cup!

b'hatzlachah

=====
====

Re: Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by moish u.k. - 19 Sep 2014 13:34

Phew...!

I almost had change my user name!

Phew...!

=====
=====

Re: Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by ZemirosShabbos - 19 Sep 2014 18:51

age old question; scotch, mixed or on the rocks?

=====
=====

Re: Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by cordnoy - 19 Sep 2014 19:02

"On the Rocks" can also be used when describing the preferred way to serve a mixed drink such as a Screwdriver or Sea Breeze.

=====
=====

Re: Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by ZemirosShabbos - 19 Sep 2014 19:05

my apologies. i am a bar-novice

=====
=====

Re: Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by mr. emunah - 20 Mar 2015 17:44

Theyve got Hogggy Hoggwartz

=====
=====

Re: Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by cordnoy - 22 Mar 2015 02:10

welcome back!

=====
=====

Re: Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by Shlomo24 - 28 Mar 2015 18:07

they call diapers "nappys". i think nappy is a funny word

=====
=====

Re: Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by shomer bro - 29 Mar 2015 04:11

But make sure to change your child's nappy in the loo

=====
=====

Re: Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by israel613120 - 31 Mar 2015 01:13

I think pants is a funny word

Hey maybe we should change this thread to stuff they have or do in the States

Like you can go out in pants and vest a be respectable

Or cars have trunks when I thought only elephants do!

=====
=====

Re: Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 31 Mar 2015 02:04

Well your cars have boots and bonnets. What kind of a silly outfit is that?

=====
=====

Re: Stuff they have or do in England
Posted by cordnoy - 31 Mar 2015 02:55

=====
=====