Some funny quotes

"Why does Sea World have a seafood restaurant?? I'm halfway through my fish burger and I realize, Oh man....I could be eating a slow learner."

"I'm in no condition to drive...wait! I shouldn't listen to myself, I'm drunk!" -Homer J. Simpson

"I do not like broccoli. And I haven't liked it since I was a little kid and my mother made me eat it. And I'm President of the United States and I'm not going to eat any more broccoli." -George Bush.

"You have to stay in shape. My grandmother, she started walking five miles a day when she was 60. She's 97 today and we don't know where the heck she is."

"The pen is mightier than the sword, and considerably easier to write with."

"Sometimes I lie awake at night, and I ask, 'Where have I gone wrong?' Then a voice says to me, 'This is going to take more than one night.' "

"On my first day in New York a guy asked me if I knew where Central Park was. When I told him I didn't he said, 'Do you mind if I mug you here?'."

A joke

1)A young Jewish man was visiting a psychiatrist, hoping to cure his eating and sleeping disorder. "Every thought I have turns to my mother," he told the psychiatrist. "As soon as I fall asleep and begin to dream, everyone in my dream turns into my mother. I wake up so upset that all I can do is go downstairs and eat a piece of toast."

The psychiatrist replied, "What, just one piece of toast for a big boy like you?"

The first post was funny. Maybe I didn't understand what you meant in the second post. I don't think that addicts are particularly naive or lacking in intelligence.

they are very smart indeed. But when it comes to their particular drug of choice , all their intelligence and wisdom will not stand . Have you read the AA book ? The first of the 12 steps clearly expresses that addicts suffer from a degree of insanity . So if this guy is addicted to jumping out of a plane , so to speak , he will continue on jumping not matter what parachute he has .

Yes, I fully agree with you in regard to the Jumpaholics or GYP (Guard Your Plane) website. I had thought that you were referring to sexaholics

I heard about this man that goes to a store to buy a parachute ,

"how does it work ?" he asks , the clerk explains to him that he has to pull from the string . "and what if it doesn't work ? " the man asks ,

- "then you pull from this other string" replies the clerk.

- "and what if that other string does not work ?"

- " no worries come back and we will replace it for you ".

I thought the clerk answered "it always works no-one ever came to complain"

Here's an oldie but goodie:

A guy goes to his rebbi in the week of Parshas Mishpatim and says "Good news, I had a baby girl! Only thing is though, I have a minhag to name my kids after someone in the parshah, and Moshe, Aharon and the rest of the people in the parshah are already taken by my other kids. What do I do???"

The rebbi thinks for a few moments, and says "That's a fair point. Have you considered "Machasheyfah"?"

The guy says "That would be good, but my shvigger is still alive!"

I think for many people here we have to open a new forum called "Internet Forum Addiction for Jewish Men"

That's a very important point Mike, but know that there IS a solution. I used to be completely powerless over my forum addiction. But with the help of my lusting I found pornography, and was completely healed of my obsession to post. I am now able to go over a week without posting on the forum. The best part is, that the posting desires disappeared immediately as soon as I started lusting, unlike other addictions in life where it is a process to get rid of.

I hope you have lots of hatzlacha.

just wondering, in light of the alternative if forum addiction is such a bad thing.... Mark, what do you say?

Did you have to write only one word on each line so the Forum editor would not automatically
