Some funny quotes

"Why does Sea World have a seafood restaurant?? I'm halfway through my fish burger and I realize, Oh man....I could be eating a slow learner."

"I'm in no condition to drive...wait! I shouldn't listen to myself, I'm drunk!" -Homer J. Simpson

"I do not like broccoli. And I haven't liked it since I was a little kid and my mother made me eat it. And I'm President of the United States and I'm not going to eat any more broccoli." -George Bush.

"You have to stay in shape. My grandmother, she started walking five miles a day when she was 60. She's 97 today and we don't know where the heck she is."

"The pen is mightier than the sword, and considerably easier to write with."

"Sometimes I lie awake at night, and I ask, 'Where have I gone wrong?' Then a voice says to me, 'This is going to take more than one night.' "

"On my first day in New York a guy asked me if I knew where Central Park was. When I told him I didn't he said, 'Do you mind if I mug you here?'."

A joke

1)A young Jewish man was visiting a psychiatrist, hoping to cure his eating and sleeping disorder. "Every thought I have turns to my mother," he told the psychiatrist. "As soon as I fall asleep and begin to dream, everyone in my dream turns into my mother. I wake up so upset that all I can do is go downstairs and eat a piece of toast."

The psychiatrist replied, "What, just one piece of toast for a big boy like you?"

You Know the Person Next To You Hasn't Been To Shul In Awhile When You Hear Him Say...

1. "Hey, my book is backwards."

2. "Isn't it impolite to talk when the minister is talking?"

3. "What's with the beanies?"

4. "Isn't it funny that one person on the stage has a better singing voice than the other ones."

5. "I get the standing and the sitting; when do we kneel?"

6. "Does your prayer book have writing in a funny looking alphabet, too?"

7. "Why do people keep coming in even after the service starts? Didn't they know what time it starts?"

8. "Do a bunch of people always get up and walk out just before the rabbi gives the sermon?"

9. "This food after the services is really good, but wouldn't it be better if people waited in line and then only took a little at a time?"

10. "Hey, I remember this part from 'Fiddler on the Roof!'"

Share this story with efshar for me,bards...

As we all know,Efshar went AWOL on us.

He said he was coming to israel,and was never heard from again.

So IT25 and I kept our eyes peeled for chassidish people. (i worked in mea shearim)

IT would come visit me in my story and say wow you see those chassidishe kids they must be efshars kids.

And I would nod at him and say "Im sure they are."

Anyway,

One day a really pleasent chassidishe fellow came in and was shmoozing with me about different seforim.

He was a little too friendly and I was getting suspicious.

So I asked him

"Where you from?"

There was a pause.

Why?

Pause.

Just wondering.

New York.

(Wow!It's him!didnt efshar say hes from boro park?)

Why?

I don't know. (the whole while trying to hint with my eyes that i know he is efshar).

So anyway,this guy buys his books and as I hand him his receipt i cant help but ask...

"Where in new york?"

Why?

O cause I'm from there.

Boro Park.

(WOOWWWWW.EFSHAR ITS YOU!!)

I started to freak out,but the guy didn't say anything.Just gave me a weird look and walked out.

I called IT

"IT i just met efshar!!"

What?!Youre kidding me?Whatd he look like?

Well,he was a little heavysset.Beard.Peyos.The whole shebang.

Are you sure it's him?

I don't know.I really think so!

Ok!So how are we gonna know?

He left his books here and said hes gonna return in a bit to pick them up.

So confront him!

Ok.What should I say?

Ask him if he knows Uri?And if it's him,hell realize who you are.

Fine.

So this chassidische guy returns half an hour later...

Thanks for letting me leave my seforim here.

(Do it now uri!)

he starts walking out the door...

(now uri!)

one foot out...

"Rabbi!One minute!!"

He turns around in surprise...

Uh...do you know a guy named Uri?

Ok.now he's forsure decided that Im crazy.

Uri?(he thinks)Uri who?

I hand him my last name,but i know it's already too late...

Nope.Sorry.And with one last weird look he walks to his car and out of my life....

My dear Uri, on the one hand, it may have been Efshar bc it's a small world.

On the other hand, the big apple is called "big" for a reason.

A software salesman died. He approached the pearly gates where the attendant told him he had a choice of heaven or hell. First he visited heaven, where everyone was flying around playing harps. Pretty boring. Then he visited hell where a toga party was in progress with plenty of good food, music, etc. and everyone seemed to be having a blast.

"I'll take hell," he said. He was immediately thrust in the fiery depths and a dozen demons set upon him, poking him with their spears and pitchforks as he roasted, his screams joining those around him. Just then Satan walked by. Between his screams he managed to gasp out, "Hey, what happened to that party I saw going on?"

"Ah," said Satan. "You must have seen our demo."

One of the things I've noticed while driving across this great land of ours is this: The people who make road signs have Q-tips Cotton Swabs(tm) for brains.

I'm not talking about your average, humdrum road sign like "STOP" or "YIELD" to which the average, intelligent American driver pays little or no attention in the first place. No. I'm talking about the kind of road signs that make you wonder if the guys down at the DOT are running with a full frame of resident pages, if you get my proverbial drift.

These are some of my favorites:

LOW-FLYING AIRCRAFT

Tell me, does the placement of this sign on the highway imply some action on my part as a motorist? I mean, just how "low-flying" are these aircraft? What am I supposed to do if I see one? Duck? Should I assume that the aircraft has the right of way? This sign is about as valuable as its cousin:

WATCH FOR FALLING ROCKS

"Well officer the reason I rear-ended the school bus was because I had my eyes peeled on that mountainside so I could swerve to avoid any boulders that happened to come loose as I drove past..."

ROAD UNDER CONSTRUCTION

PASS AT YOUR OWN RISK

What this sign means is, if, as you are driving through the construction area past the ten or twelve road workers who are standing around in small groups with their hands in their pockets discussing whether or not the color of the steam-roller conforms to their union contract, and one of them flicks a cigarette butt your way which ignites your gas tank and your car explodes, you cannot hold them liable for damages.

NO TRUCKS LEFT LANE

No verb this sentence.

BLASTING AREA. TURN OFF TWO-WAY RADIOS.

I wonder how many crazed pyromaniacs drive around with a carload of walkie-talkies looking for these babies, hmm?

MEN IN TREES

Don't worry guys, evolution is your friend.

LAST SANITARY FACILITIES FOR 30 MILES

"Gee, I guess we'll have to use the unsanitary ones..."

HAVE YOU CHECKED YOUR TIRES LATELY?

This is on the Maine turnpike just after you come over "The Bridge" from New Hampshire. It serves as a reminder to tourists that it could snow at any minute without warning.

Why are there flotation devices under plane seats instead of parachutes?

You know that little indestructible black box that is used on planes, why can't they make the whole plane out of the same substance?

How does the guy who drives the snowplow get to work in the mornings?

If 7-11 is open 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, why are there locks on the doors?

You know how most packages say "Open here". What is the protocol if the package says, "Open somewhere else"?

Why do they put Braille dots on the keypad of the drive-up ATM?

Why is it that when you transport something by car, it's called a shipment, but when you transport something by ship, it's called cargo?
