Some funny quotes

"Why does Sea World have a seafood restaurant?? I'm halfway through my fish burger and I realize, Oh man....I could be eating a slow learner."

"I'm in no condition to drive...wait! I shouldn't listen to myself, I'm drunk!" -Homer J. Simpson

"I do not like broccoli. And I haven't liked it since I was a little kid and my mother made me eat it. And I'm President of the United States and I'm not going to eat any more broccoli." -George Bush.

"You have to stay in shape. My grandmother, she started walking five miles a day when she was 60. She's 97 today and we don't know where the heck she is."

"The pen is mightier than the sword, and considerably easier to write with."

"Sometimes I lie awake at night, and I ask, 'Where have I gone wrong?' Then a voice says to me, 'This is going to take more than one night.' "

"On my first day in New York a guy asked me if I knew where Central Park was. When I told him I didn't he said, 'Do you mind if I mug you here?'."

A joke

1)A young Jewish man was visiting a psychiatrist, hoping to cure his eating and sleeping disorder. "Every thought I have turns to my mother," he told the psychiatrist. "As soon as I fall asleep and begin to dream, everyone in my dream turns into my mother. I wake up so upset that all I can do is go downstairs and eat a piece of toast."

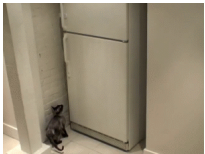

The psychiatrist replied, "What, just one piece of toast for a big boy like you?"

I think this exercise vort is something I need to tap into. I have seen guys talk about it helping before, but never tried it. Most exercise I usually get is to the fridge and back.

I'm not sure if this counts as a Shidduch Story but funny anyway.

My husband and I were on our last date a week before our wedding. We didn't really shidduch date- we are BTs who became frum together before we got married- we were already dating for like 4 years at that point. We were VERY comfortable with each other.

Anyway- we were at a milchig restaurant after a nice big meal when 2 or 3 girls come into the restaurant and sit at a table near ours.

They then start to play that game where you try to figure out the story of the people in the resaurant- a little too loudly...

They started a description about how my husband and I are probably on our 1st date...maybe 2nd. He looks really rich, I look bored... Not going well at all...

At that point in the conversation I had pulled out my credit card to pay(my parents were paying for it-we arent traditional) and they all gasped.

I was dying for a way to flash my ring at them or something to show just how wrong they were about the WHOLE conversation.

My then chosson and I were on the floor laughng when we finally left!

The first man I dated was over a foot taller than me. When he walked at a normal pace I couldn't keep up. At first he slowed down every so often to let me catch up.

I guess after doing that a few times he either forgot or thought I got used to walking faster, and he didn't stop or slow. He just kept walking.

I gave up trying to reach him and just stayed put and waited for him to notice I wasn't with him anymore.

I got a call on my cell a few minutes later. He had walked two blocks, talking to himself and wondering why I had become so quiet. LOL

A "Husband Shopping Center" was opened where a woman could go to choose from among many men, to be her husband.

It was laid out in five floors, with the men increasing in positive attributes as you ascended up the floors.

The only rule was, once you opened the door to any floor, you must choose a man from that floor, and if you went up a floor, you couldn't go back down except to leave the place.

So, a couple of girlfriends go to the place to find men.

First floor, the door had a sign saying:

"These men have jobs and love kids."

The women read the sign and say:

"Well that's better than not having jobs, or not loving kids, but I wonder what's further up?"

So up they go.

Second floor says: "These men have high paying jobs, love kids, and are extremely good looking".

"Hmmm," say the girls, "But, I wonder what's further up?"

Third floor:

"These men have high paying jobs, are extremely good looking, love kids and help with the housework."

"Wow!" say the women. "Very tempting, BUT, there's more further up!"

And so again, they go up.

Fourth floor: "These men have high paying jobs, love kids, are extremely good looking, help with the housework, and have a strong romantic streak."

"Oh, mercy me. But just think!?!?!"

What must be awaiting us further on!"

So up to the fifth floor they go.

The sign on that door said:

"This floor is just to prove that women are impossible to please.

Thank you for shopping and have a nice day!!"

SPECIAL REQUEST

If your wife visits the women's forum, would you be so kind as to get this joke posted where it belongs

If someone disappears from here we'll know he showed this to his wife.

You meant to say the other way around?

"if someone showed this to his wife... he'll dissapear"?

venahapoch hee?

Why?

Also I'm not so concerned cos the Yiddish site has no JHF forum, so the women probably don't either, and anyone that wants to prove me wrong, go ahead!!

I agree, i don't get it either.

If it's gd talking, id say "great, so I'll speak to you in heaven after I'm done making my calls here"

If it's the wife talking, id say "are you threatening to kill me? "

But i do need to turn of the phone when i get home, i think I'll start leaving it in the front of the house until after the kids are asleep.

In case you needed further proof that the human race is doomed through stupidity, here are some actual label instructions on consumer goods.

On a Sears hairdryer: Do not use while sleeping.

(Darn, and that's the only time I have to work on my hair).

On a bag of Frito's: ..You could be a winner! No purchase necessary.

Details inside. (is this the shoplifter's special)?

On a bar of Dial soap: "Directions: Use like regular soap."

(and that would be how???....)

On some Swanson frozen dinners: "Serving suggestion: Defrost."

(but, it's "just" a suggestion)

On Tesco's Tiramisu dessert (printed on bottom):

"Do not turn upside down."

(well...duh, a bit late, huh)!

On Marks & Spencer Bread Pudding: "Product will be hot after heating."

(...That one is for the blonde in all of us...)

On packaging for a Rowenta iron: "Do not iron clothes on body."

(but wouldn't this save me more time)?

On Boot's Children Cough Medicine: "Do not drive a car or operate machinery after taking this medication."

(Now mind you, I believe the key word there is Children.

We should all put our children to work driving or operating machinery...

Right?)

On Nytol Sleep Aid: "Warning: May cause drowsiness."

(and...I'm taking this because???....)

On most brands of Christmas lights: "For indoor or outdoor use only."

(guess we could hang them in the twilight zone)?

On a Japanese food processor: "Not to be used for the other use."

(now, somebody out there, help me on this. I'm a bit curious.)

On Sunsbury's peanuts: "Warning: contains nuts."

(talk about a news flash)

On an American Airlines packet of nuts:

"Instructions: Open packet, eat nuts."

(Step 3: maybe, uh...fly United?)

On a child's superman costume: "Wearing of this garment does not enable you to fly."

(I don't blame the company. I blame the parents for this one.)

On a Swedish Chainsaw: "Do not attempt to stop chain with your hands or"

(..was there a lot of this happening somewhere?)

Money, Money, Money..... There was a man who had worked all of his life, saved all of his money, and was a real miser when it came to that money. He loved money more than just about anything, and before he died he said to his wife: "Now listen. When I die, I want you to take all my money and put it in the casket with me. Because I wanna take my money to the afterlife with me." And so he got his wife to promise him with all of her heart that when he died, she would put all of the money in the casket with him. One day he died. He was stretched out in the casket, the wife was sitting there in black, and her friend was sitting next to her. When they finished the ceremony, just before the undertakers got ready to close the casket, the wife said, "Wait just a minute!" She had a box with her, and she put it in the casket. Then the undertakers locked the casket down, and rolled it away. Her friend said, "Girl, I know you weren't a fool enough to put all that money in there with that man???" She said, "Listen, I can't lie. I promised him that I was gonna put that money in that casket with him." "You mean to tell me you put that money in the casket with the man?" "I sure did," said the wife. "I wrote him a check."

Three Eastern European Jews named Berel, Cherel, and Shmerel were talking about moving to the US.

Berel says, "When I move to America, I'm going to have to change my name. They won't call me Berel anymore; they'll call me Buck."

Cherel says, "When I move to America, I'll also have to change my name. They'll call me Chuck."

Then Shmerel says..... "I'm not moving."
