Some funny quotes

"Why does Sea World have a seafood restaurant?? I'm halfway through my fish burger and I realize, Oh man....I could be eating a slow learner."

"I'm in no condition to drive...wait! I shouldn't listen to myself, I'm drunk!" -Homer J. Simpson

"I do not like broccoli. And I haven't liked it since I was a little kid and my mother made me eat it. And I'm President of the United States and I'm not going to eat any more broccoli." -George Bush.

"You have to stay in shape. My grandmother, she started walking five miles a day when she was 60. She's 97 today and we don't know where the heck she is."

"The pen is mightier than the sword, and considerably easier to write with."

"Sometimes I lie awake at night, and I ask, 'Where have I gone wrong?' Then a voice says to me, 'This is going to take more than one night.' "

"On my first day in New York a guy asked me if I knew where Central Park was. When I told him I didn't he said, 'Do you mind if I mug you here?'."

A joke

1)A young Jewish man was visiting a psychiatrist, hoping to cure his eating and sleeping disorder. "Every thought I have turns to my mother," he told the psychiatrist. "As soon as I fall asleep and begin to dream, everyone in my dream turns into my mother. I wake up so upset that all I can do is go downstairs and eat a piece of toast."

The psychiatrist replied, "What, just one piece of toast for a big boy like you?"

Mark, this was the actual Dr Seuss that you meant from the other thread.

Just crying in pain, will get you no gain.

We can moan and twist, yet advice we'll resist.

Try listening brother to the words of another, you'll be delighted you'll see with your great 'covery.

I think for many people here we have to open a new forum called "Internet Forum Addiction for Jewish Men"

That's a very important point Mike, but know that there IS a solution. I used to be completely powerless over my forum addiction. But with the help of my lusting I found pornography, and was completely healed of my obsession to post. I am now able to go over a week without posting on the forum. The best part is, that the posting desires disappeared immediately as soon as I started lusting, unlike other addictions in life where it is a process to get rid of.

I hope you have lots of hatzlacha.

just wondering, in light of the alternative if forum addiction is such a bad thing.... Mark, what do you say?

I

AM

so I have no clue what you dear brother's are discussing here, sorry.

I agree you are simply what the big book would call "A problem poster" not a postaholic

True story:

A bunch of kids were sitting around by circle time in a "Gan" (playgroup in E"Y), and the activity was reading this book that has pictures of animals, and the kids need to say where each animal lives. Anyway, they get to a cat, and a kid yells out "It lives in the garage cans!"...

A guy desperately needs the bathroom, so he runs to the nearest one he could find, and the only open stall is a handicapped stall. Left with no other option, he goes in. When he comes out, there's a guy in a wheelchair who's sitting there, and asks him, "What were you doing in there"? The guy answers, "I needed to use the bathroom ". "Well, that stall is reserved for handicapped people, and you're not handicapped!"

The guy composes himself and says, "Well, I was before I went in there".

Why are the minds of women so clean?

Because they change them so often.

Two giant wind turbines were in a field. One day, one of them asked the other "What type of music do you listen to?"

The other one replied, "Well, I'm a big metal fan".

Personal updates? B"H, still going strong. Wearing a new pair of cotton tzitzis for the summer.

Random fact, my wife is in her 37th week, so I'm super pumped, and also kinda nervous about stuff...

Mazel Tov on the new expectations and strings.

I don't get why your wife is on the 90 day chart. Does that make your struggle easier?

Actually, I meant she's in her 37th week of pregnancy. But yes, she does make my struggle easier.

I actually gotta say that I'm very grateful that the first addition to my family will come into this new life that I built for myself.
