the above link should not be clicked on for many reasons; it should also be removed.

I took out the link. The views of this particular "rabbi" are beyond the pale for a Frum forum, in my opinion.

I do think that the word Lust was used for a different meaning. Perhaps the word he should have used is Passion.

But i still agree that it inappropriate on this forum.

Like I wrote above, the site where his article was quoted was a much greater reason to have it deleted (and I did email Guard immediately).

However, your comment got me thinkin a bit. We are a Frum forum. We do invite everyone though. Are the opinions of everyone here in line with a Frum forum? Are they checked? Presently, I do not have an opinion on this, but are there bylaws on this?

Just thinkin'....

Thanks
