Or...

As we sit around the shabbos table tonight, here's a new approach to those who are trying in vain to get the juniors to eat their salad.

"Inastruggle"

The quote is completely wrong for gye. We know the story and not the name :-)

Inna, You have a point, but let's say you know someone's name, You still don't know their real story even if read their whole thread, you still won't really have much of an idea about who they really are, what they go through on a daily bases, and most importantly - what makes them tick.

I think in order to keep sg on his toes I'm going to argue with each quote. Not because I don't like them, adrabbah, playing the devil's advocate brings out the amkus of the quote.

Also because I think it's funny.

I'll stop if commanded to by rosh ha-thread, stillgoing shlit"a or enough people complain.

Inna, to your first point, it's not What you say, as much as How you say, as demonstrated by todays quote.

For your second point, i can only do one quote a day. Quotas and all. Sorry
