Almost as much as we love eating food we love discussing it - see what happens when a few guys start discussing how they make cholent... so from p'tcha to pizza, gefilta fish to fois gras, stop by and stir up the pot with anything food related that may be on your mind.

Im not really sure how to post but if this is how to post i guess i do.... But im a semi-pro chef with a pretty serious shmiras eynaim problem. Hence being here, but i would love to know if anyone here has any tips on how to use food for recovery? I guess talking about food is always a good distraction...

Some people enjoy cooking as a hobby and could find it relaxing , that would be a good way to utilize time when you are bored or even stressed out.

Eating food emotionally or the like is really not good.

I'll probably get censored again, but howbout specializing in glazed rump roast or jerked chicken. End the evening with a bang with slutty brownie desserts? They go great with an orange dirty Shirley.
