

Embarrassing things we all do and think
Posted by Grant400 - 07 Aug 2020 06:17

I realized that most of the embarrassing things we do, we all do. I figured it would be funny if I listed some and any of you can share yours and we can all get a good laugh realizing we all do the same stuff:

1) "Klapping" selach on shabbos by mistake and immediately opening our hand and scratching our chest and arm for a really long time, maybe even sliding to other places like "oh! This itch wont let up!" Same with kissing our tefillin during krias shema by maariv.

2) When I daven for the amud I always check my phone or listen to the guy next to me to make sure I'm saying the right "yom" before blurting out the ending, even though I already know what day it is.

3) When we get caught staring through the car next to us's window we carefully continue to look in the same direction, just missing eye contact...like, "I wasnt looking at you pick your nose- I was intently staring directly at the spot of bird stuffs on the hood of your car"!

I've seen this one with myself and everyone around me...

Getting the orange juice passed to me, and just having to shake it- even though I still see the froth from the previous shaking from all of 5 seconds ago i love doing this when the guy before me didnt close the bottle well...

Anybody ever start davening maariv with a minyan and then realize during shema that you already davened? It gets pretty awkward pretty fast...

I once told a non frum coworker Mazel tov because I thought she just came back from having a baby. It turns out it was the wrong person. Not only that, she thought I was saying Mazel tov because I thought she was pregnant. She said no, I just put on a some weight and she looked very embarrassed. Her embarrassment paled in comparison to mine!!

When the gabai shouts "Kohen?" you don't move because you don't want to run up there at the same time as the other Kohen and have to awkwardly walk back but then when the gabai says "Ein kan kohen" all of a sudden you remember your yichus!

works! Cmon admit it! Ok, you don't have to admit it but we all know you did.

I am a Levi so I certainly can relate to the same idea!
