

Embarrassing things we all do and think

I realized that most of the embarrassing things we do, we all do. I figured it would be funny if I listed some and any of you can share yours and we can all get a good laugh realizing we all do the same stuff:

1) "Klapping" selach on shabbos by mistake and immediately opening our hand and scratching our chest and arm for a really long time, maybe even sliding to other places like "oh! This itch wont let up!" Same with kissing our tefillin during krias shema by maariv.

2) When I daven for the amud I always check my phone or listen to the guy next to me to make sure I'm saying the right "yom" before blurting out the ending, even though I already know what day it is.

3) When we get caught staring through the car next to us's window we carefully continue to look in the same direction, just missing eye contact...like, "I wasnt looking at you pick your nose- I was intently staring directly at the spot of bird stuffs on the hood of your car"!

Getting to shul on time.

proceeding to waste 10minutes for no reason in particular before wrapping tiffen.

I know i am stealing jackthejews joke but...

I believe it's over two years since I last posted. A friend of mine started discussing with me his 12 steps beginning and that has got me interested again. I'm not sure why now I feel like reaching out when so much time has passed and different things happened. I guess I would say that I feel like I have a real perversion to fight against if I start restart the battle, where in the past it was more vanilla. If I continued I would have to throw away a collection I bought. It's been real

I'm really wondering about the new thing, that the default username for new members is some creature. Like what, are we being treated like we came to the zoo? What's up?

Maybe this belongs in the grouchery...

Ever accidentally hit the thank you button when you're trying to respond to a post and it's a post you would never send a Thank You for in a million years

Run around from room to room with a wild eyed, crazed expression, hand towel desperately flailing as I try to rid the house of those pesky flies/moths/Other Horrid Miscellaneous Creatures. Kids think it's hilarious....I don't.

(When all else fails, we reach for the Vacuum of Death. Many an unfortunate soul have been mercilessly sucked into its ravenous depths, never to be seen or heard of again)

You just ruined my virtual image of you. I pictured you wearing a tall wizard hat standing in the dining room and canting a spell to expell all the crawling creatures away!
