Fake news reports a new sighting - Tashlich in March. The head of each household stands by the toilet bowl with holy intent discarding all semblance of comets, with a prayer in cheek that the pipes don't get clogged.

As preparation, many people went streaming to the Mikva the day before to toivel their heilige Plunger!

Why did the matzah quit his job?

Because he didn't get a raise

How many Pharaohs does it take to screw in a light bulb?

One, but he won't let it go.

A lady calls the Rabbi at 10 pm.

Wife: "Rabbi!, we scattered ten pieces of bread around the house, and my husband only found nine of them. What should we do?"

Rabbi: Is the bread the size of kezayit

Wife: Yes.

Rabbi: So he has to find it!!

At midnight, she calls again.

Wife: Rabbi!, my husband has already dismantled all the closets, taken out the rugs, turned over the furniture, and nothing. He can not find the tenth piece of chalets!

Rabbi: There's nothing to do. He must search until he finds it.

2:00 am she calls again.

Wife: Dear Rabbi, we are all tired. My husband has searched 702 times as a gematria of Shabbat, searched on the roof, opened the plumbing, everything, and still has not found it. What can we do?

Rabbi: If it's a kazayit, there is no choice. He has to find it!

Wife: Can I at least give him a hint?

someone sent me a picture of a person lying in a hospital bed in a full body cast, looking like a mummy.

the caption read:

"the last thing i remember was walking into the kitchen with a piece of bread"

last year (maybe two years ago? dont remember) the bennet government in Israel started falling apart because one female Knesset member in his coalition was upset that they were allowing chometz into hospitals on pesach.

Rav Elya Ber Wachtfogel was quoted as saying that the government didnt take into account that women can get a little uptight about chometz around pesach time, and that led to their downfall

A man comes home one night during Sefirah and asks his wife: What's for supper?

She replies: Last night was chicken and rice.
