The Grouchery: Haven for the Grumpily Disgruntled Posted by youknowwho - 08 Mar 2024 15:01

Speaking to a few friends offline gave birth to this idea, it seems to be an urgent and immediate necessity.

Welcome to...The Grouchery: Haven for the Grumpily Disgruntled

This thread is a place where one can feel free to rant, vent and gripe.

It is a safe haven for negativity, sourness and blahness.

It is a place where one can be sure to find a healthy dose of demotivating advice. It is a place where any kind of positivity is strictly forbidden.

It is a place where you can vent about what a rotten day you're having and not worry that people will then reach out with concerned pm's/texts...cuz nobody really cares. And that's perfectly fine, why should anybody care?

Please Remember:

-No profanity (Sadly)

-No personal insults (Sadly)

- Absolutely no: Nice, positive, warm, loving, optimistic, motivational, supportive or inspiring posts. (Not sadly)

Why isn't anyone grouching anymore?!?

Do people wish to take the joys out of life for us depressed grumpers who secretly get giddy with glee everytime soemone lays out a good grump?!?!

Seriously, we even passed Monday morning with straight silence...

@RED, would you maybe please consider letting YKW out for a few minutes...please?

(dont worry, he isnt coming to free me from your terrible...er...wonderful clutches..OUCH!)

This was going to be grouched about anyways, but now it's in the honor of proudyungerman... anyhoo, here goes:

Isn't it annoying when you reach out to someone to grouch, and then he goes and turns it into an entire grouching session for him?

Gosh, almost makes me want to vomit slugs or something.

almost makes it not worth grouching in the first place....

Was a little floored by Vehkam's suggestion above not to grouch...I asked Meta how to respond. Here goes:

"Oh, don't be tame, let your grumble ignite,

Unleash the fury, and let your discontent excite.

Life's a dumpster fire, and sugarcoating's a fraud,

So embrace the grouch, and let your anger explode.

Complain, snarl, and let your irritation seethe,

For in the grouching, your true feelings will breathe.

It's a way to vent, to rage and to despise,

And show the world, you're not some cheerful, naive surprise.

So don't hold back, let your grouch flag fly high,

And show the world, your grumpy, grouchy, bitter sigh.

For in the grouching, you'll find a dark, twisted glee,

A chance to be nasty, and make everything a misery

Note: Please keep in mind that this poem is intended to be humorous and not meant to be taken seriously. Grouching and being nasty can be harmful and damage relationships, so it's important to find healthy ways to manage emotions and communicate effectively."

Ad Kan.

And I think I disagree with the "note" at the end...

I have no words to describe how much I despise the decision I have to make in front of me. It's not a hard decision per say but I feel like it was made just to f*ck with me because it ticks all the boxes of somthing that would confound me and make deciding for me just an impossible task that I hate everytime I think about it plus I am on a timelimit to decide so but it's just going back and fourth in my head weighing all the pros of each side then all the cons... asking for advice from people being unsatisfied with the answer because I don't like both options to begin with.... f*ck this... why me???
