

The Grouchery: Haven for the Grumpily Disgruntled

Posted by youknowwho - 08 Mar 2024 15:01

Speaking to a few friends offline gave birth to this idea, it seems to be an urgent and immediate necessity.

Welcome to...The Grouchery: Haven for the Grumpily Disgruntled

This thread is a place where one can feel free to rant, vent and gripe.

It is a safe haven for negativity, sourness and blahness.

It is a place where one can be sure to find a healthy dose of demotivating advice. It is a place where any kind of positivity is strictly forbidden.

It is a place where you can vent about what a rotten day you're having and not worry that people will then reach out with concerned pm's/texts...cuz nobody really cares. And that's perfectly fine, why should anybody care?

Please Remember:

-No profanity (Sadly)

-No personal insults (Sadly)

- Absolutely no: Nice, positive, warm, loving, optimistic, motivational, supportive or inspiring posts. (Not sadly)

Enter at your own risk!

Rabboisai, back to the cleaning lady.

When she comes, she basically asks my wife for money (her cousin back in her home country is in jail, her son was sick...). She also asked my wife if she liked all of her perfumes (She has 5 bottles- barely a selection!), hinting that she'll take any my wife doesn't enjoy.

She eats EVERYTHING. (The cleaning lady. Not my wife. That's an entirely different sugya). She expects yummy Greek yogurts, the spoiled *****.

Because of all this, (and then some more) my wife doesn't want to take the free help!

That's one way of cleaning up

They'll clean out the fridge before the cleaning lady can get there. And they'll make a mess that will take her the whole day to clean and won't have a minute to eat!

there. And they make such a huge mess that the cleaning lady will be busy the whole day and won't have a minute to eat!

Why would a kid drink a bottle of Motrin?! Like what's enjoyable about sitting in the ER for hours??? Our actions have consequences!

One shabbos afternoon i get home from mincha to see my wife still sleeping, my then-2year-old son up, with the bottles of Motrin AND Benadryl open on the counter, BOTH having been drank from, with us not knowing how much was there before.

That explains your user-name

Not the thread to make someone smile.

Simchastorah is a day of joy where we take out the scrolls to sing and dance. But there are some of us that cannot do that because they are full of grouch and grouch and grouch, and for them, Woodford and Motrin are the only solution

I've asked this shailoh before on here and not gotten a clear answer.

If someone enjoys the grouching and grumbling, is that a violation of this thread?

Is there another word for synonym?

Warning: Spoiler!

Inspired by Shem, I completed the 3-circles tool, just to get rid of that annoying pop-up. Unlike Shem, I do have healthy activities - which I filled in.

Why then, is it still popping up?!

(It reminds me of that Yankel Miller joke, but this isn't the place for levity.)

22 degrees Fahrenheit, winds blowing everything all around so it feels like single digits, and I'm supposed to stand out there, under the open sky to bless the moon, and THEN dance around like an old shmoyger???
