Speaking to a few friends offline gave birth to this idea, it seems to be an urgent and immediate necessity.

Welcome to...The Grouchery: Haven for the Grumpily Disgruntled

This thread is a place where one can feel free to rant, vent and gripe.

It is a safe haven for negativity, sourness and blahness.

It is a place where one can be sure to find a healthy dose of demotivating advice. It is a place where any kind of positivity is strictly forbidden.

It is a place where you can vent about what a rotten day you're having and not worry that people will then reach out with concerned pm's/texts...cuz nobody really cares. And that's perfectly fine, why should anybody care?

Please Remember:

-No profanity (Sadly)

-No personal insults (Sadly)

- Absolutely no: Nice, positive, warm, loving, optimistic, motivational, supportive or inspiring posts. (Not sadly)

Enter at your own risk!

HA! Y'all got to say Kiddush Levana. It's been far too dreary here for that. Haven't seen any celestials for at least a week.

Warning: Spoiler!

22 degrees Fahrenheit, winds blowing everything all around so it feels like single digits, and I'm supposed to stand out there, under the open sky to bless the moon, and THEN dance around like an old shmoyger???

I happen to enjoy Kiddush Levana (I even tighten my tzitzis knots after-i seem to be the only guy in my shul that does that) but I HATE the dancing afterwards. Tovim meoros is the most boring miserable song ever. The tune is so depressing and could be sung at a funeral! I refuse to join in the circle.

When i was in E"Y, I found that Israelis seem to pride themselves in how low of a key they can start Toivim Me'oros- starting with the Marianas Trench.

You also get extra points for saying 'a sheina Ivana' in a deep aggressive growl

Happens to be, a bunch is years ago back in my shul in ??????? (I believe it was ????? ???) and I started the regular old tune. The gabbai gives me such an incredulous look and starts singing it to Carlebach's "Orech Yamim". The oilam started pumping.

I hate Shovavim.

It brings back some miserable memories of always failing.

Never making it past the first thursday.

Never connecting with the projects.

Counting down the days till life slipped back into its mundane blur.

My son came home from school and launched excitedly into this Shovavim program they're running there, it took extra effort to listen patiently and (attempt to) share his excitement.

How ironic would it be if it's the program being pushed by GYE?

Hear hear!

It never spoke to me! I don't really understand it. And I never was able to hold back for 10 minutes anyways.

Not having WhatsApp, is sometimes annoying, especially when the reason I dont have is a social/religious one and the reason I do need it is for business.
