

The Grouchery: Haven for the Grumpily Disgruntled

Posted by youknowwho - 08 Mar 2024 15:01

Speaking to a few friends offline gave birth to this idea, it seems to be an urgent and immediate necessity.

Welcome to...The Grouchery: Haven for the Grumpily Disgruntled

This thread is a place where one can feel free to rant, vent and gripe.

It is a safe haven for negativity, sourness and blahness.

It is a place where one can be sure to find a healthy dose of demotivating advice. It is a place where any kind of positivity is strictly forbidden.

It is a place where you can vent about what a rotten day you're having and not worry that people will then reach out with concerned pm's/texts...cuz nobody really cares. And that's perfectly fine, why should anybody care?

Please Remember:

-No profanity (Sadly)

-No personal insults (Sadly)

- Absolutely no: Nice, positive, warm, loving, optimistic, motivational, supportive or inspiring posts. (Not sadly)

Enter at your own risk!

I'm grouchy to announce that this hiatus is over. It's not okay. I should not need to put out a serious Grouch to get this place alive and Grouching again.

But nu, what can I do?

Okay. ???? I'd Grouch that "a few weeks ago a Chaveirim guy replaced a tire with the donut and, in doing so, lost a pretty vital piece without which the wheel can pop off at any time. To get the correct part is an entire headache in and of itself."- ?????.

And ???? I'd Grouch about how, when my mechanic picked up the car and I didn't tell my wife he was gonna take it and she freaked out thinking our car was stolen, and she was quite unhappy that I hadn't told her... ?????.

And ???? that the part he ordered didn't fit, ?????.

And ???? some other stuff came up that made him need the car until the next day, thereby requiring us to rent a car (on the day the day we needed it- which is muchas $$$)- ?????.

And ???? my work car didn't start this morning, ?????.

And ???? I could've avoided that particular issue by not being a cheap mamzer (pardon my French), ?????.

And ???? the guy who's had a car- for a great price to boot- hasn't picked up my calls or answered any of my texts, ?????.

I think that should be enough to get the ball rolling.

Me thinks 'Illu' you would get rid of your Mamzer (PMF) of a car, and start UBER'ing for a while, 'Dayainu'

If only you would have listened to my age old advice as if it was given from a true sage (because it was), and named that VW "The Vicious Wehrmacht" I promise you would not have had such issues.

One evening last week, I get home after a long day at work to find that my wife had almost-ready shakshuka, meaning the sauce was prepared and the only thing needed was to put the eggs in, salt them and ensure they get cooked nicely. She asked if I could please take care of that and I said "Sure!". And so I did. While trying to handle the screeching baby. Shoyin.

I'm telling you, it was looking amazing and smelling even better.

As it reaches perfection, my wife asks if I can put the baby to bed, because she's "had enough". Sigh. Being a good husband, I said "okay". (Notice the lack of "!") Before getting him into pjs I check his diaper and, lo and behold! it was dirty! (No wonder he was unhappy). I change his diaper, trying my best to tune out his ear-splitting screaming.

As I'm getting him into his pjs, my wife comes in the bedroom- eating the steaming yumminess-, and says "can you please do something about the screaming? It's really disturbing my supper."

I honestly thought she was being cute. And then I saw her face, ~~now I'm a believer~~, and I realized she was legitimately upset at me.

Here's a warm hand... ugh. That hurts.

Just a good idea to remember that sometimes women (or men) get upset , in a situation, or for wherever reason, and then they express that upset in the direction of their wonderful, undeserving, spouse. Because, much like Mt. Everest, he is there. Doesn't make it Geshmack, and doesn't make it right. But good to remember that she may not really be upset at you.

Here's a hug,

And here I thought that I was the one who once broke those blasted grouchery rules.....

I've nothing really to complain about, everything is nice and dandy. Besides that I was mugged today, did not drink alcohol, fell madly in pn and am hating myself. b"h nothing to complain about...

I love my wife. She's a rockstar. Well, most of the time, anyways.

She is so generous. She even shared her stomach virus with me unintentionally, and then got upset when I couldn't help with the kids since I was flipping sick!!!

And then, after I vomit my guts out, Sleeping Beauty calls out from the bedroom "can you try to keep it down? I'm trying to sleep here." Right. Because my making noise is my own fault.

And on the subject of vomiting, this might get graphic, so click at your own risk.

Warning: Spoiler!

Certified as a Super Grouch. (You should really tell your wife how her communication style makes you feel.) ;-)

I agree with Alex94.

This is it! We've finally reached PEAK GROUCH! Aint nobody gonna top that. (I hope not....)
SO we can all go home now, feeling better that our lives dont suck as much as we thought.....
