Poor mouse, imagine carrying around a house, with you and your wife and all 12 steps, or maybe there's a whole staircase, and he's shlepping this around....

Cheese always goes down well with mice

Specially the one with holes in. Gives your wife a way out

Thank you everyone for your responses.

Now my wife did find the real mouse, which obviously caused a hard time and a sleepless night, but thats at face value,

Now lets take it as a mussar haskel, the mouse, in the f2f find the fox method is the yh, and he's usually invading the house, (my life)

But now everything has changed, my house invaded my mouse, yes the mouse is still there but he was reduced to having just a little corner somewhere in the house,

Thank you everyone for all the warmth, friendship, and help.
