grade school son comes out of bath

Son: "I'm freezing!"

Me: So get dressed

Son: but I'm holding something, how can I get dressed if my hands are full?

Me: put your stuff on the floor and then get dressed.

Son: but how will I know where I left my stuff in the morning?

Me: put it in its place

Son: I don't know where to put it

Me: don't you have a box for all your stuff?

Son: yes, but i usually don't put anything there.

Me: So start putting your stuff there

Son: but since I do not usually put my stuff there I won't think to look there.

Me: so how do you usually find your stuff in the morning?

Son: I usually lose my stuff until someone finds it (usually me or his mommy stepping on it or throwing it out...)

Me: maybe start putting your stuff where it goes and then you will know where it is

Son: I think I'll just leave it under my pillow. That's where i leave my kippa.

Me: ok then. goodnight, love you.

Not a joke but thought it was funny

Soon after our company moved into a new building, we had trouble with the elevators.

A manager got stuck between floors and, after some door banging, finally attracted attention. His name was taken and rescue promised.

It took two hours before the elevator mechanic arrived and got the manager out.

When he returned to his desk, he found this note from his efficient secretary:

"The elevator people called and will be here in two hours."

One day a middle-aged Modox man named Leo hears from his son attending university. "I've decided to become a Christian, Dad."

Leo panics. "What do I do?" he asks himself. The only thing he can think to do is call his rabbi.

" Funny you should come to me with this problem, Leo," says the rabbi. "Not 2 years ago my son comes to me with the same speech. I had no idea what to do. I panicked, and the only thing I could think to do was go to God."

"What message do you think you got from God?" asks Leo.

The rabbi laughed. "God said to me, funny you should come to me with this problem ..."

"Great", he says to himself, "Now all I need is for the Jeep to not wait for me to make it a really bad day".

Joe was an older guy who lived alone. He wanted to dig his potato garden, but he was getting older, and wasn't able to work like he used to. His only son, who would have helped him, was in prison for robbery. Joe wrote a letter to his son and mentioned his predicament. He received this reply: "For HEAVEN'S SAKE Dad, don't dig up that garden, that's where I buried the Money!"

At 4 A.M. the next morning, a dozen policemen showed up and dug up the entire garden, without finding any money.

Confused, the Joe wrote another note to his son telling him what happened, and asking him what to do next.

His son's reply was: "Now plant your potatoes, Dad. It's the best I could do from here."
