A man goes to a psychiatrist.

"How's your work life going?" asks the psychiatrist.

"Very well," he says.

"How about the family? "

"Very well," the man says.

"How about your marriage? "

The man looks at the psychiatrist and says "beautiful."

"There is something very wrong with you," says the psychiatrist. "You are too normal. I have to give you some medicine so you can be crazy like everyone else."
