

Bardy's Pub

Posted by Cry2Tatty - 24 Jan 2010 17:16

Welcome my friends to bardy's pub...it's kinda like a depressed persons chill spot for guys who like to drink...tell us what you're drinking what you drank and what you'd like to drink...

I'll start...this shabbos I had a chianti italian wine made of sanginovese grapes...it was a 2008 and tasted immature...it had an acidic finish that's a staple of the tuscanny region...it was a cute wine and I enjoyed it because I wasn't expecting a big bold taste...Friday night I had 3 shots of the balvenie 18 year while playing backgammon with mrs rage after the meal...then at 830 I poured myself a glass of about 5 ounces woodford and had a lechayim with all of u...shabbat after shul I had a glass of grey goose with my chulent eggs and a pre nap glass of woodford...over all it was a nice shabbos...

not sure if this belongs here or in the depressed hangout:

A priest, a minister and a rabbi are walking down the street together, and they all want a drink, but they have no money on them.

The priest says, "watch how its done, little boys."

He walks up to the bar as the rabbi and the minister watch.

The priest orders a drink, drinks it, and then the bartender gives him his tab. The priest says, "But my son, I've already paid for the drink." The bartender says, "I'm terribly sorry, father, but it's really busy in here and I must have forgotten."

The minister is impressed and he walks up and orders a drink. After he drinks it, the bartender gives him the tab, and the minister says, "Son, I paid you when I ordered the drink." The bartender says, "I'm terribly sorry, I don't know what's wrong with me, but that's the second time that happened to me today."

The rabbi pipes in and says, "That's okay, son, it happens to everyone. Now, just give me change for the fifty I gave you for my drink and we can all be on our way."

A rabbi, a priest, and a minister walk into a bar. The bartender looks at them and says, "What is this, a joke?"
