lech lecha cholint is basically the 4 and 5 rule (or the foor in faif)

keneged the arba'a melachim and the chamisha so you put in 4 parts beans to 5 parts meat

4 beer to 5 coke

4 potato to 5 tomato

4 ketchup to 5 honey

4 part yarmulka to 5 part chumash

4 kosos to 5 oops, got a little carried away

We had a recycled cholintt this week. It was part leftover cholent and I threw in new bones, onions psices honey and some other stuff to jazzz it up.

Recicled cholent is my way of contributing to environemntal cleansing . Although I remember reafding that cow's gas is partly depleting the ozone layer... That said - um well let's just forget that part.

So- my green cholent is gunna create thousands of jobs and propel us to the next level of ebergery conservation for the new milenium. We are gonna educate ppl about recycling cholent, we're gonna then take on the unions and wall street and give'em all a cholent break. That's really what this whole okkupy wealth street movement is about anyway. Everyone needs a bowl of cholent and I believe that will settle the whole thing down. Come to think- cholent might be a valluable tool for restarting the israeli peace negotiations... Either that or we can use it as a weapon against the palestinains. :p

some sddom salt, some sulphite & fire coals, dead sea water, fire crackers, wheat crackers, wholewheat dough for pot cover, must be eaten in boiling sunlight under a cool breezy tree
