Thanks for replying! i did do pretty well didn't i? huh, i have not been doing quite as well so far on my playoff predictions! who would have thought the Spurs could beat the Mavericks? i did not! i am also surprised that the Nuggets lost to the Jazz, the Jazz are a great team but i really thought the Nuggets would win but i suppose not having your normal coach really makes a difference. i am still sticking with the Cleveland L.A. finals though! The Celtics have surprised me as well but they are lucky LeBron James is injured but he can still beat them with all the weapons that surround him.
