

Back on Track's trekking along

Posted by Back on Track - 07 Aug 2011 19:45

hi everybody. clean 100 days here. but looking for chizuk in continuing this journey to where we all know we want to be. A little about me. born modern- became frum later in life. Had prob with m* since I was able to. I began working toward recovery about 2 years ago. I had a lot of ups and downs, I am finally at a point where things in that area of life seem to be leveling out. only thing is everything else is so up in the air..... I actually dont know whether Im comin or goin. But Hashem has a plan for all of us, and thats what we need to follow.

next stop is Tibet for the GYE Yak Races

BOT, doing good b'h!

and my daughter's goldfish she brought home from day camp is still alive, would you believe?
rumor has it he's taking it one day at a time life's not easy if you live in a recycled pickle jar in truth we can learn from Rebbetzin Goldie the Goldfish (or is it Rabbi Zanvil the Goldfish? dunno) to appreciate life. usually these fish don't get to live to their shalom zachor or kiddush and take a one way circular ride down the bowl, so every minute they are alive is precious. we are no different.

somewhat more respectable home though our zoo is growning

This is actually Goldie 2. Last year, after a very long life (for a goldfish anyway zemmy how is the loquat compote buried it in our garden. My wife even said a hesped. We have serious kavod hames is it simmering on a low flame??

oops, forgot to stir it i think the bottom burned

give it all to Goldie II, we can study the effects of burned loquat compote on pickle-jar goldfish
