Hi,

I introduced myself, not long ago, Here. But I have grown since then, and have outgrown my small house in the "Introduce Yourself" part of town. I am a Jr. Member and soon will be a "Full Member" IY"H, so I decided I needed to build a new house in a new neighborhood. I looked around at different neighborhoods and saw some spectacular houses in "Wall of Honor". I see that Zemmy and Bards have built here among others, so I decided to plant myself here as well. I will hopefully build some walls of honor myself, and continue to make great friends along the way.

I plan to use this as my main posting thread. So please come in and make a l'chayim, or enjoy some chocolate babke and fresh brewed coffee, or just stop by to say hello.

It's a privilege to dwell among such chashuve yidden!

It should be locked at 120.

And yours at 24?

You must be kidding

Good thing they removed the minus...

Hi. I know I haven't written in a while, but I'm still around and still plan to post.

Tomorrow, June 8th will be my 8th anniversary of getting caught by my wife and starting my road to recovery. I haven't masturbated or looked at porn in 8 years Bli Ayin Hora. Over the years, on my anniversary, I have posted a bit about my journey and what has worked for me.

This year, I think I want to try something different for a couple of reasons. First, it's sometimes hard for me to remember what I did when I was really struggling to help my recovery. B"H, the nisyonos are not as frequent or intense. That is not to say they don't happen. Shmiras Aynayim in particular can be difficult at times. Not allowing my fantasies to get the best of me in my relationship with my wife can also be difficult. A wife can also be made into an object and that can also cause problems. Secondly, just like everyone else, I could always use some chizzuk.

So, I thought of this idea. I have been privileged to meet so many people. Some of you on the forum. Some on the phone, and some in person.

It's hard to know what impact I have had. Sometimes, I find out, but I suspect that often I don't.

Perhaps I could ask you to write something that I wrote or said that helped you. Maybe a particular post, or maybe just a line from a post. Maybe nothing in particular, but some of my posts have helped you in general. Maybe I pointed you in some direction that helped you.

There is no pressure here. It is purely voluntary. But, knowing that I made some sort of difference would really give me chizzuk and make my anniversary that much more special.

Thank you all!

When I first joined GYE, I found out fairly quickly that while you learn from everyone here on the forum, there are certain guys that you connect to and relate to their posts more than others.

From day 1, I related a lot to your shares, struggles, advice, jokes, encouragement and support.

You were gracious enough to spend time with me on the phone, and that helped me a tremendous deal when I was first getting started here and going through a very rocky time in my marriage.

I know it might sound trite, but I've really considered you my rebbe here since I started here almost three years ago. I get excited when I see that you've posted because I know I'm going to finish reading your post with a bit more wisdom, encouragement or at least a good laugh.

Some of the specific posts that had the greatest impact for me, we're in the following areas:

Marriage and relationships, honesty about what our behavior has had on our wives and taking responsibility for it, what our wives need from us , getting out of isolation, and of course the Dov quotes in your signature.

I and my entire family will never be able to thank you enough in this world, although I hope to get a chance to meet you in person sometime.

May you continue to have much true shalom bayis, mazel, simcha, brachos and nachas in everything you do! Thank you!

For me, it's hard to say because everything blurs into one and I usually remember the feel that I get when I see each person's name as they post.

I remember that I got a lot of chizuk from you in my earlier times as you were posting more, or maybe I was going through your thread as I did all of the successful ones right when I joined.

You struck me as upbeat, honest, hard working, and inspiring in a very normal and down to earth way. Eight years is amazing, and even the way you mention that shmiras einayim can be a struggle is your usual straightforward and honest way.

Happy anniversary, keep on shteiging, and much continued hatzlacha!

Your profile name is one of the first that I came across and it gave me some inspiration. Not to mention the Avatar. I guess the lesson was. It takes hard work, but you gotta be strong.

If I remember correctly, you had a fairly high count of sobriety at one time and then had a fall. You picked yourself up and then went on to the eight years - KEYN YIRBOO

I have reached a plateau of hundreds of days of sobriety twice already. I am definitely using you as a model of "success" - if you will - that I too B"H wish to reach.

Your insightful remarks have also been very beneficial.

Stick around my good man - you are very much appreciated.
