

WeWillNotBeForsaken

Posted by WeWillNotBeForsaken - 15 Dec 2008 21:54

Failed. Can't believe it, but its the hard sad truth. I had come so far...

Must try to figure out what went wrong...

Take me off the Wall of Honor until I can go 3 days once again...

Almost had it. Very sad. I'm sorry.

New battle begins... First full day will commence tomorrow night 12/16.

Still can't comprehend.

Must not get into bad depression.

Well here I go again: Day 1.

Sorry everyone.

Keep it up!!!

You can do this. We can do this.

Stay strong!

Hey man - thanks for checking up!

Its getting tough but b'h still going strong.

Just finished day 13.

If I can only continue convincing myself that by watching fake stuff I will never be able to have a healthy/happy relationship, I can continue going.

Holy %$#@.

This is really tough.

I'm working on day 18.

Have been saved a couple of times in the last few days by begging for help on this forum. I am a proud man (unfortunately) and have never asked anyone for anything. School work, money, food, job, housing, etc. But now, if I want to really live life, I am forced to.

I just wanted to thank everyone who responded to my cries and have made it easier to ask for help.

I am always amazed at how well the y'h manipulates my brain. Every single thing that I put in place to try to stop him, he just dismantles with "logical" arguments. Which is why I'm left to everyone else's encouragement.

Thank you

Day 18 here I come...

Sometimes the proudest thing you can do is recognize your humanity and join hands with others...

Even the Lone Ranger needed Tonto, otherwise he would have become a Prozac junkie!

So I'm re-reading my last post and I realize that it actually looks a little condescending.

Just to clarify - that is totally not my intent at all. I am extremely thankful to everyone here and love their help.
