ditto.

I remember dov saying that they call it "adult" entertainment, but really it's childish. They call them "smart"phones, but...

Yasher Koach on your honesty and bravery!

oh yeah, and KOT!

Funny you ask.

In the past I would have felt hopeless.

Thanks

Given the experience that I've had over the past few months here, I feel hopeful

I know exactly what you mean.

Boruch Hashem!

Last night instead of porning, I cleaned the chicken for friday night. Not that I was about to fall, but a year ago, that's what I would have been doing.

Leichter, done.

Hi guys.

I've been a bit quiet recently but not bcz things were bad. Was busy with work and other personal matters.

I reset my 90 count because i found my self pushing the limits of the definition of a slip until i realized that I was falling and not slipping.

I see that no matter what I need to check in with my daily chat (my friend who i discuss these issues with) regardless of what I did that day.

The day before things started slipping was a GREAT day for me in my journey. I hit benchmarks that i have never reached in time management, learning and not lusting.

Iv'e identified what exactly led to these slips/falls and have taken corrective action.

live and learn...

Eli

that's the spirit

live and learn,

but don't forget learn and live!

It's great to have you back!
