

My Journey (back to myself)

Posted by jjblue13 - 02 Dec 2012 04:44

I have been struggling since I was 12 (maybe even 11) on level 2 or so.

I was able to see my neighbor's pool from my bed room window, and from there started the fantasies. It wasn't so bad before I got married & I thought that marriage would solve the problem.

It didn't. When I got married, slowly it got worse and I started using internet p (my wife need internet). Even though we had a filter, I was able to work around it (I have since blocked all sites except this one and my friend has the password).

Since my wife passed away (there is no option for "widowed" in the marital status) it got worse, especially the last 3 months. Until I found out about this site from an article on aish.com when I was looking for inspiration after a particularly hard day.

Browsing on the forum I worked up the courage to speak to my Rebbe. He gave me some tips, but he said, "They really got it right over there."

I cannot delay (re)marriage much longer (with the guidance of my Rebbe) but I have decided to make it my goal to be clean for 90 days (at least before I get engaged).

I've been away for a while, that's a GOOD thing (I haven't had internet). Challenges do come, but I like focusing on living in the "REAL world", there's nothing like it! (btw thanks Eli/RGT) yes I've been quiet.

Gut Shabbos!

I had a fall, & now I'm back up to 40 days, b"H.

Gut G'benched Shabbos to all.

BTW to anyone who still remembers me, since I've become less active on the forum, I got (re)married b"H, to a wonderful lady.

Thank you everyone (or would that be anyone) who davened for me, I'm certain that your Tefilos helped!

Yossel,

I have read your history and cried with your challenges and celebrated your successes. I am so happy to read about your marriage. May you be aggressively chased by health, wealth, yddishe nachas, long life, happiness, and purity along with your new wife until 120.

I am so inspired by you as I am struggling terribly to rid myself of this unrelenting challenge.

Posting here and connecting with people like you really help me stay connected with my sanity. When a thought to look at porn or engage in (insert any disgusting practice here)I ask myself, what did jjblue do when he was challenged, how did he overcome the urge and reach 90 Day? I imagine you standing right near me and showing me how you were able to grow over the challenge.

I keep on slipping down the ladder but i am still getting right back on each time. May you always be an inspiration to all around you.
