

Yaakov's Ladder

Posted by Pidaini - 08 Mar 2013 17:33

Starting my log a little late, i'm BH holding by today, which is number 53 of all the todays, but Bein Hazmanim is coming and i need to keep in check, and might not have time for all the chatting that usually helps me clear my mind (thanks guys!!).

i've been using AlexEliezers advice, that he gave me right when i first posted, of bulletproof Shemiras Einayim, or trying at least, and BH got to Today. but it's all changing now, it's not the same streets that i walk down every day, know exactly where to go so not to look, the dangerous places where i have to be careful etc.

now i'm entering the lions den, going to the airport, the airport itself, a few hours on the plane, etc. it's really scaring me!!

anyone have any ideas?

also been struggling with dreams, i know it shouldn't affect me, but it does, because it makes me realize that my mind isn't clean during the day, which leads to the next question how to keep my mind clean?

Wishing all you a Great Shabbos and it's Parshas Hachodesh so may we all be zoche to renew ourselves!!

First it was that I have a built in Middos Machine. Just instead of an annoying electronic "middos alert, middos alert", mine says "go look, women, porn, fun etc".

So my alert has been going off these past few days, but I told myself it was mood, or tired, or both. But this morning I was in a good mood, and rested, and the alert was still beeping.

The story is like this. My brother, whom I am very close to, is hopefully getting engaged soon.

My parents are here, and are obviously very busy with that and him.

The one I had this morning (at least the first one that came up) was basically that I am not really happy with my life, and as long as brother wasn't engaged it was still something imperfect for him, but now, he's going to have a perfect life and I'm left to mine.

So that is why it was so difficult to give him his space that he needed last night! and that's why I wanted my parents to give ME all their attention!!

and humans have selfish thoughts, and desires!! (really?!

I was horrified when I realized this, "is this really me?! I'm a terrible person!!".

It took some time of "Hashem put me here, this is perfect" and a heartfelt tefilah during Shma Koleini, to calm myself down.

I am Human, I have feelings, but I am not in control over the actual feeling, just over my reaction to them. The feelings and thoughts come, and I need then (and now) to turn my life back to the Ribono Shel Olam "Hashem I give over my life to you, to do with it as only you know is good, and I will accept that wholeheartedly".

When I spoke to my brother a little bit later, I noticed a change in me, it was a genuine concern for him, caring, and true brotherly love "I'm here to help when you want it". Not the "I'm older, know better, let me run your life for you" feeling.

as always THANK YOU HASHEM, SO SO SO SO MUCH!!!!

Oh i just want that vision to see the day when

I had a thought,

The gemara in Sanhedrin says that the Torah is called "toshe'ah" for it is "mateshes kocho shel adam"

The name Torah comes beause it shows us the way that Hashem wants us to follow. That is the way we are supposed to sit down to learn, "I am now going to let go of my plans for life, and see what Hashem wants me to do". If a person does that then automatically the plans that a person made for himself which are "kocho shel adam" are deminished, and he can see what life Hashem wants.

First of all, any label that is given to the Torah must be good.

Second, Rashi puts it together with "machna'as leebam" I would have to say that is good, not necessarily comfortable, but certainly good.

Certainly good.

But then again, I know of "something else" that is mateshes kocho shel adam, hey "something else" is gooooooooooddddddddddddddd.
