

Hashem, please open up the road for me!!!

Posted by pischoshelmachat - 12 Mar 2013 20:30

I started my 90 day journey last Shabbos and it feels great so far. I know that I will walk into an ambush any time and I daven that with my little hishtadlus in joining this wonderful community of GYE and with the chizuk from my new partner, I will be able to pass my first test.

In the mean time I thank the RBS"O for every day that I am able to stay clean.

What a breath of fresh air.

I am now almost 46 and I so badly want to be mesaken this while I am still in the young years so that my Teshuvah can be complete.

I don't like to talk or even think about what I have done in the past because it is too painful for me to face the horrible things that I did that are so not who I really am. I want this to be the beginning of my new life that is Tocho K'Baro.

I cry every day that my children should be pure and grow in Torah and Yiras Shomayim but how can I expect the RBS"O to give me ehrliche children if I don't fix myself. I just daven to the RBS"O that my children should always be Yirei Shamayim and not be punished for my weaknesses.

If you have difficulty deciding where to put your hand... put it in my hand, so we will climb the mountain together!

Reb Mordechai,

Thank you for your offer. This uphill battle is so much easier with a partner. I will accept your offer. I feel like i am walking outside on the ice and just need some help to get over the ice patch onto some solid ground.

I have been slipping for a week now and just can't seem to get back on track.

Hello Again My Dear Friends,

B"H yesterday was good. So far today is good but I have the nagging feeling. I thank all of you who reach out to me to give me chizzuk. This connection really helps.

Thank you so much!

Pischoshelmachat,

The struggle that we are up against is a hard one. The mountain may seem big and high, but we CAN and WILL reach the top! All we need to do is to look up to heaven. Just don't ever look down!

I want to give you some encouraging words from Rabbi Nachman.

Rabbi Nachman Teaches,

The main cause of attacks of lustful cravings is depression. You should therefore make every effort to be happy at all times.

Even if you fall into thick mud and find it extremely hard to escape, just scream and scream and scream.

Some people also worry over the very fact that they have such thoughts. But "Trouble is bad enough when it comes" (Berachot 9b) . There is no need to let the fact that you have such thoughts disturb you, whether because you have had an attack of them in the past or because you fear they may strike again in the future.

Sichot Haran #129

and...

Rabbi Nachman Writes,

A person should realize his downfalls are really part of his ups, because in order to go up you must go down. So when you fall from your level you should be happy and realize this is part of the growing process.

Likutey Eitzos

Everytime we slip or fall, we get a stronger desire to stop lusting and serve HaShem!

thinking of you, Mordechai

Reb Mordechai,

Thank you so much for the Chizzuk.

I am a very big worrier but I am also a very happy person. I am trying to work the steps.
Following what has worked for others.
