

laughingman tries to count to 90.....

Posted by laughingman - 14 Mar 2013 16:01

as of today all my posts are here as far as my own topics are concerned

i have had 2 falls but i am now a week into a new streak

i have had success in breaking some previously unbreakable habits not m habits ...thoses i have dealt with somewhat but even farther as a result of the rules that i follow through the 90 days and though i have slips about once in 2-3 days every day foward breaks that tooo down so that it becomes less frequentand eventually non-existent

i recently got the s3 and i have had soo far Thank G-d no desire to sttempt to use it for searching ****

i personnaly dont use software barriers for myself (for my kids i do of course) i can break them too easy ...the only way out is personal honesty

as all of these things are for now personal actions and it is working ...hopefully it will continue though im sure the real war is coming

There's a heavy bunch..... anonymous people on gye.. no one knows you... or can help you.. or pick you up (or throw you down)... as long as this anony-mouse relationship continues the cat and mouse game goes on around and around until... the next laughingcryingman episode.. don't we love anonimity.. till death?....

Decided that i can no longer tolerate my rate of lapses and counted it as a fall... i was only looking at things...thank G-d nothing else happenedbut i felt that in the interst of being true here and that i would rather feel the sting of this problemin losing my status here then otherwise i counted the falli will G-d willing return to counting from after shabbat ...though i am proud that this is the first fall i have had that was not a result of physical failure but more of a mental one but i am going to go through all the things i normally do for a physical fall now to enharden myself against this now so that soon i will be free of this problem too....i dont want to fall to depression....after all i just lost a month or streak

That was a post of yours from over three years ago...look at how all you are focused on is your 'falling' and other nahrishkeit. Not in reality, not facing your Life - instead, just facing the "Wall of Honor" and pretending that the only real factors in your life that matter to you are how many mitzvos vs aveiros you have and your madreiga...all fantasy.

While the house of your Olam hazeh was busy burning down, there you were boiling your water first instead of dousing the fire with whatever water you had (Chofetz Chayim's moshol) - while some GYE folds were cheering you on for your cleanliness...but apparently things have changed around here for the better, and:

OMG! How far you have come since then, Mr Laughy!

Look at most of your recent posts - they are focused on your marriage (or lack thereof), the family, your emotional state and your opportunities, obligations, needs....in other words: they are mostly about facing your Real Life!

That's amazing, and real progress.

Before you go back to the land of impurity and falls, I hope you can at least spend one minute before davening each tefillah today and the rest of this week at least, just appreciating how you are closer to living on the same page with Hashem and Reality rather than in la-la-land like you used to be. One minute is not long.

I have thought of that ...alotand also thinking how i wish i had then the mindset i have now i might have avoided thingsbut i also know how super dangerous that train of thought is i also realize how important what i do isno matter that it doesnt fit a "model" but my whole life is like that ...and enabled to be that way when many others are refusedi an a caretaker now ...

Yes, to some degree you are.

Yet you are also a real, live, man. You still have your own life that is affected a great deal by what you spend your life on.

I think we each need to find our own peace.

Can you see what I am referring to?

This looks like a conversation between two people where there is history and more going on than the actual surface appears.... But I am still getting something out of reading it. Sometimes it CAN take years to realize you are getting someplace. And sometimes it can take years to get someplace. But if we keep coming back, we are moving in the right direction.

I have been thinking in circlesprobably will continue somewhat for a long timei kept thinking in absolutesand in negativesits possible i already am living in overtimebut it also seems ...at least for nowthat i have far more meaningfulness in my life than i thoughtand though the going is getting tougher by the moment at times , it seems also that i have alot more control than i thoughtalthough it is very hard to see itmy whole life i have been taught wrong and bred to fail and cry while doing itbut i also know that my life is not simply "mine"its not only about me, and that gives me more than being selfishif only perspective is changed

LM,

That's awesome; instead of moping you actually want to do something about it. Hope it goes well!

Yea that is one of the benefits I find in this forum as opposed to live interaction. Both have their strengths. And going live means confronting the issues in the most uncomfortable and real way possible. But you can't record your meetings and your thoughts at the time. This forum has helped me in ways I did not even think imaginable when I started. keep at it.
