

mischaretani's climb to 90

Posted by mischaretani - 21 May 2014 16:04

Hey everybody,

I'm new to GYE, and I figured it would be a good idea for me to open a thread to help me on my journey to 90.

I struggled with masturbation throughout high school, and on rare occasions I viewed pornography. But for the most part, masturbation was my problem. I quit pornography years ago, and was also clean from masturbating for a while. Until a few weeks ago I fell. Then I discovered GYE.

My wife knows about it, and she is extremely supportive and helpful. She is my daily inspiration, and I owe it to her that I am now at 25 days and counting!

Welcome aboard! without the chevra here, the daily reinforcements from GYE and the support of my Eshes Chayil, I wouldn't be more Tahor for the longest period in my life-in excess of 400 days, Ken Yirbu!

see Gvuras Yitzchak Inyaney Bein Hamitzarim where he explains this Yerushalmi that this tefila is particularly applicable to ikvasa demishicha where the yetzer hora will use all his strength to get us and the regular eitzah of torah tavlin won't be enough for these nisyonos so ain lanu lehisha'ein ela al avinu shebashamayim i.e. davening and surrendering to Hashem!

B"H Today is 212! And B"H we had a baby recently!

Last night was mikva night after a 6+ week wait. I never thought I could make it 6+ weeks, but somehow I did, and it didn't feel like it was forever. But my wife hasn't been cleared by the doctor to resume relations yet, and this morning she was staining a little bit. I'll find out soon from our rav if she is still tahor, but if she's not, please Hashem help me make it until the next mikva night.

KUTGW! Just don't count the days. You say "it didn't feel like it was forever". I bet you were not "counting", you were just "living". Keep it up!
