

Bigmoish's path to tahara

Posted by Bigmoish - 29 Jul 2014 23:01

I just posted my story in the "introduce yourself" forum. It feels like a weight off my shoulders already, but I hope I can really do this.

I already woke up this morning with the YH in my head, but I managed to brush it off and go

If only the mechanic would reply as fast as Moshe! Its good to see that you still check your gye email account. :-)

We miss you here.

Look who the tiger dragged in!
Hope things are still improving (from your last big post).

So, I'm back.

I guess.

Was I even gone? Who decided that? Have I failed to respond to a single PM? Was anyone actually looking for me and couldn't get in touch with me? I think not.

I was just enjoying my "non-sobriety" off of the forum. It's pretty annoying and time/emotion consuming to post another sob story about porn and masturbation every day or so.

But now that I'm "back" (wutever), I will share with the good folks here that I will probably act out today. Perhaps I will do it without guilt (been working on that). And then, perhaps, I will get on with my day. For the record, I did not masturbate yesterday. I don't think I did the day before, either. Why? It's as much of a mystery to me as anyone.

Wishing you all a great, calm, serene, productive, sober (if that's what you want) day.

Ok, welcome not back.

I was worried a little about you at some point, guilty as charged, but not recently, actually not since I saw you at that event.

It is indisputable that you stopped posting for a while which is perfectly fine if that works for you. However some of us missed your posts, just like I would/do miss posts from other forum members whose opinions I value (or who have entertainment value). I will redact my welcome to pertain specifically to your posting on the forum.

Feel free to have a wutever day if that's what you want.

Stillgoing, I can understand why you ask before you voice your opinion because you might get this:

But you shouldn't be afraid to voice your opinion, ever.

neshamaincharge, you are absolutely right. I just used a poor choice of words.

MayanHamisgaber, you are the one that helped me the most, you made me look back at my old posts, I seemed like a spunky, full of positive energy kind of guy and now I seem like a cold intellectual full of complaints. The post about happiness really moved me. If it worked for me then, it should probably work for me now.

My apologies.

No need to apologize, you should also voice your opinion.

Aight, here goes.

Granted, I responded in a rude way, and could have simply challenged Mr. Mesayin by dredging up some stats of married/single GYE users and I could have taken a poll of how many users who are now married thought that they would be finished with this issue once they married, because thier problem wasn't severe enough for it to possibly continue into marriage and once they had a spouse to take care of their physical/emotional needs everything would be great, and I could have turned it into a philosophical discussion about whether we are honest with ourselves blah blah blah.

But I didn't.

Why?

Because I am hurt.

Not really hurt to the extent that I hold anything against Mr. Mesayin, who is a great guy whose posts I love reading.

But hurt enough that my knee jerk reaction to his assumption that marriage will solve his problem (I know he didn't say that, but I'm just interpreting) was to bristle.

Who does he think he is to say that? Didn't I say the same thing when I was a bochur? Does he mean to imply he is better than me? Impossible! To say such a thing would be an indictment of

So, if anyone was hurt by my comments, I didn't mean offense. I just needed to remind you that

I'm better than you.

Sorry for the ramble, but you did ask for my opinion.

I vote for honesty over nice and mushy, especially on an anonymous sex blog site.
