So yom Kippur is behind us,

But the fight is only starting,

That monster is not happy that I'm trying, well I got 3 days, so what? That was easy, the first day OK I made a decision to do teshuva he gave me a break, the 2nd day was erev Tom kipur big deal I had no time to sin, day 3 yom kipur big shtink who thinks of doing an aveirah, oh but last night he came out full fource, (for some reason he always gets right after yom kipur just to bring me down) he filled my dreams with garbage, I even woke up in middle of the night, this morning when I got into my car he pushed my eyes in every direction, so I decided that I'm pulling over to write,

So here I am even if I fall today it won't be without a fight, & hashem please help me that I win this one just this one day,

Please if anyone can give me chizuk please do,

Don't panic!

If the ??? ??? is really putting that much effort into tempting you, then there must be alot of potential. ????? ???

Welcome,

Keep it strong. I relate with you in two ways. 1 that in the beginning it is very hard. 2 that after yom kipur or any uplifting yom tov we get bombarded with the YH to bring us down. we need to take it 1 day at a time. We daven to hashem that he should help us get through the day. we admit that we are powerless and that only hashem can help us.

Hatzlacha
