HMMMM updated signature, this is nicer but I would need pirush rashi on it pls quote="Aryeh"

i wish I had the courage to tell my mother when she asks me if/why I'm stressed I would say ya mom I actually have an addiction

I have no idea if you are often stressed regardless of addiction, but if you are, that's something worth looking into. You say you're stressed bc of the addiction, when actually you may be acting on the addiction bc of stress. Just a thought...

Who cares if you can handle one look?

You don't want to take that one look anyway.

I've noticed a correlation between posting and falling ever since I've stopped posting I've been falling more frequently but you have nothing new to say says the yetzer hora

Im falling ...as usual

I'm fed up with myself .... As usual

I've been taking seconds looks ... Not really as usual cause I have been a bit better i scheduled a call with Watson just need to work out the details .. Definitely not as usual plus I realized I can always post about having nothing to post about im going to eretz yisroel soon really freaked out about gedolim refusing to shake my hand or whatever my mashgiach said not to be worried but I am anyway - anyone have experience with This?

I thought about the shaking hand business several times.

They always shook, I think.

It might have been better for me if they had refused.

It would have been a real nice wake up call.

I talked to a guy from the website who told me a story about a case where a Rosh Yeshiva decided to publicize a guys lust problems and told guys basically not to "be gores" him until he got help. The good news was that the guy got help. The bad news was (as I see it) Oy VEy! Extreme in a harsh kind of way.

Guys I need some advice

I recently decided to get rid of my phone (the browser is completely blocked so not really because of porn realated issues)

however I realized today that it is a major source of connection as I whatsapp friends and cousins a lot and an idea talked a lot about here is staying out of isolation whats you're guys opinion on this?
