

Struggling

Posted by Mark7378 - 01 Aug 2016 14:50

hey there,

i have been been an addict for 22 years and have once been sober for 2 years straight. I have realized that I am living a double life and just felt totally out of control so I finally decided to stop again. I am scared! I hope this will last. I am not attracted to my wife (which is what was my excuse all the years)and that is making this very difficult . That being said I will stay strong!

Welcome Mark

As Peloni Master of Hardcore cornography would say

HMMMMM!!

Welcome! Did you act out before meeting your wife? Your story is pretty common. Please tell us more.
