

Ano Nymous Part 2 - A new year and a new 90 day journey!

Posted by Ano Nymous - 21 Nov 2009 23:43

Hi Guys,

I have (stupidly) neglected this forum because I was simply overwhelmed by the amount of new material on here on a consistent basis. I started my 90 day trip last year on November 20th, and I'm doing the same this year. I've set up my cell phone in such a way that I will be able to send and receive calls for free so I can call my partner and call the phone conferences for free.

Today, Shabbos, was day 2. Let the chizuk flow, because this will NOT be easy. I'm reaching for a new plateau compared to last year. I fully believe that when faced head on with temptation, I am completely powerless. I become a shell of myself, completely out of control. I know though, that if I never give up and I take the right steps, I will win the war despite the lost battles. Signing off,

Ano

Shabbos was pretty nice (Day 37). I'm starting to feel the stress from finals, and it definitely doesn't help. I'm doing my best to let it all go and realize I can only do my best. Whatever will be, will be. I hope I will be happy with the outcomes :D

Maybe e-mail #478 on this page can help somewhat... It's called "Dealing with Stress"

I'm gonna go do that. Being in bed is the worst thing to do when you're feeling down. I'm going for a walk with some music. It might not be in the spirit of the fast day by standard definition, but I think it's what I should do.

Awesome! And if I may respectfully disagree...i think fast days are meant for us to focus on ruchniyos, and to help inspire us to improve and get closer to hashem.

That's exactly what you did.

COMPLETELY in keeping with the spirit of the fast day.

Except, of course, for the fact that baby seals must have a hard time finding headphones that fit...

It has to do with the binary interpolation of the theory of dynamic megatronomics. ;D
