

Ano Nymous Part 2 - A new year and a new 90 day journey!

Hi Guys,

I have (stupidly) neglected this forum because I was simply overwhelmed by the amount of new material on here on a consistent basis. I started my 90 day trip last year on November 20th, and I'm doing the same this year. I've set up my cell phone in such a way that I will be able to send and receive calls for free so I can call my partner and call the phone conferences for free.

Today, Shabbos, was day 2. Let the chizuk flow, because this will NOT be easy. I'm reaching for a new plateau compared to last year. I fully believe that when faced head on with temptation, I am completely powerless. I become a shell of myself, completely out of control. I know though, that if I never give up and I take the right steps, I will win the war despite the lost battles. Signing off,

Ano

Amen.

I'm about to board at JFK, and man this place was tough. I was pretty good with my eyes, but it is nearly impossible to avoid triggers. I felt like being nuked from every side. Youch!!!

See you guys after the jump! :D

This post is brought to you from the plane, where it appears I have an aisle seat with an empty middle seat and a regular old joe sitting in the last seat over. Thank you God!!!

Glad to hear that - I think that counts as a hug!

Thanks for calling last night - it was good to hear your voice (though I'm not sure what I may have said in my 85% asleep state!)

Fell smell.

Falls happen to addicts.

A fall on the journey is worth more than a clean day when not... (Momo)

Yes, this is an amazing insight. You can be a "dry" drunk for 1 year, but tis worth nothing, unless you are trying!!!!

Like Duvid Chaim always says: "I care more about your recovery than your sobriety."

but still. gadlus.

i have pics of rabbanim on my wall... i'd love to add R' guard

DITTO!!! one day guard will reveal himself to us, and we will all be in more awe than we are now. He barely seems human, as he is so holy. He would def. go on my wall next to Rav Pam and Rav Yisroel Meir Hachohen kagan(CC), not a bad idea to add mevakesh too, hes A crazy tzaddik

Thanks for all the chizuk guys!!

I got home without any issue. Watched a couple movies on my laptop during the flight, and was even able to look away during inappropriate scenes and not let them cause any harm. Please don't lecture me on movies, as I'm not giving them up right now (although I have severely cut down; these two movies were the first movies I've watched more than a month). I'm looking forward to a nice clean week of vacation :D

Good shabbos everyone (or shall I say gut vuch?)!!!
