

My Story, the second first day

Posted by OneLife - 24 Nov 2009 07:22

Hi, friends.

The first time I started my 90 days journey I thought i will succeed.

My problem to stay clean is the triggers that i can see everyday.

everyday i'm going by rail to my work, 7 years already. there are a lot of triggers i can do efforts to get my head down, but its not simple at all, to do that for two hours everyday for years.

the second trigger is in my work, i sit near two weman that come to work with very provocative clothes.

I don't know how to struggle with this daily triggers.

moreover , I connet to Internet "Rimon", and this is the worst filter i have ever seen before. but i disappointed.

their filter crashed when i start to challenge it. it miss a lot of inappropriate web pages, i spoke with them about that, but they didn't fixed their breaches, just a little.

i submit a request to rav Sherlo to do something with that, since it could be that a lot of males fall when thay surf through internet "Rimon".

I havn't got an answer yet.

today i started my first day clean, I wish with your help to succeed.

Thank you, friends.

43 days clean.

i wonder if we can open startup company that will develop a digital glasses.

they should work the same as the internet filter,

i mean when you walk on the street watching here and there, every pruza that suddenly will appear against your eyes the glasses will "block" her, and you just see a big black stain instead another idea is that instead of blocking her they will address her in a znu'im clothes, what do you think guys, won't it be fantastic?? :D :D

of her.

OK OK im writing nonsense as the time 00:20 now and im tierd.

good night guys, you can dream about that, it gonna be a revolution...

My first thought is, "I'd buy them!"

And I would buy those glasses. But it might not be an easy purchase, and I wouldn't necessarily always want to wear them, even though i should.

If only we, and the world, had a clear understanding of how things worked, people would flock to buy those glasses. Of course, in an ideal world, we wouldn't need them

Glad to see you back - but I'm sorry to hear that things are changing in your family....

By the way, check out quinoa, I've had some great stuff made from it, including cakes! And it's even kosher I'peisach (some poaskim disagree, based on amaras ayin).

you are somebody special!!

But glad things are going well. Keep us posted on everything!

Dear OneLife,

I'm so sorry to hear about your daughter! I too have some intestinal problems (not as serious as celiac) so I definitely can relate to the pain and fear. But B"H today there are so many products out there that you can buy. I really hope Ha-shem gives you guys the strength to adapt what needs to be adapted in as painless a way possible!

Keep on Trukkin!!!
