

My Story, the second first day

Posted by OneLife - 24 Nov 2009 07:22

Hi, friends.

The first time I started my 90 days journey I thought i will succeed.

My problem to stay clean is the triggers that i can see everyday.

everyday i'm going by rail to my work, 7 years already. there are a lot of triggers i can do efforts to get my head down, but its not simple at all, to do that for two hours everyday for years.

the second trigger is in my work, i sit near two weman that come to work with very provocative clothes.

I don't know how to struggle with this daily triggers.

moreover , I connet to Internet "Rimon", and this is the worst filter i have ever seen before. but i disappointed.

their filter crashed when i start to challenge it. it miss a lot of inappropriate web pages, i spoke with them about that, but they didn't fixed their breaches, just a little.

i submit a request to rav Sherlo to do something with that, since it could be that a lot of males fall when thay surf through internet "Rimon".

I havn't got an answer yet.

today i started my first day clean, I wish with your help to succeed.

Thank you, friends.

62 days clean.

our PC technical support installed on our PCs at the weekend a "protected surfing system" which means actually internet explorer Ver 7.0

in a special version. ive never seen such version before.

some troubles have appeared.

the problem is that surfing in that explorer can be probably bypass my filter.

i tried to load the sites like google or gmail (which are blocked in my filter) and they were indeed the PC was stuck after i saw the first page of them but i tried to search in google images "beit hamikdash" and i saw the pictures.

i think that the filter isn't bypassed completely, and thats the reason that the computer stuck when i try to load pages i defined to block.

but now i have at least the option to try to challenge the filter and maybe to "succeed", i didn't have that option before because the filter did his job very good, so i stoped to try.

the easy click is here again.

loaded.

IM kidding bro. I love you soooooooooooooooooooooooooooooo much. :-* :-* :-* :-* :-* :-* :-* :-* :D
:D :D :D :D :D :D :D :D

thank you IT25,

my friend here works at the technical support dep. he told me how to do uninstall to the new software, i did it, and i hope now everything is OK.

besides that,

, because i saw in a medical forum which i surfed there many times before a little untsiut picture that i clicked on that.

after 3-4 seconds i closed that, because of you guys, i thought of you.

and close after 3-4 seconds.

1 hour later one more click on similar garbage in another "kosher" site.
not fall just slip ??? ???

please give me some chizuck guys, i need you.

The strength is there. You can do it. You just need to know who helps you. HASHEM. Ultimately we cant help you. Only you, with your Emunah and Bitachon in Hashem can do this. All we can do is stand by here on the sidelines and cheer you on. Find God within you, He's there even if you dont realize it. He's in you and outside of you. Look to your right. He's there. Look to your left. He's there. God is always there, we just need to take the time and effoert to bring ourselves to naturally think that. Like we involuntarily breath when we need air. To me its te greatest feeling when I say "Ya Im not too worried God will take care of me(this doesnt happen so much so its something I am working on also)." Ein Od Milavdo.

Think of us, but also remember YOU! You've had 62 days clean, and you KNOW how good that feels, it's like breathing in fresh air!

Good luck with the technical problems, and hopefully you won't need it. It's like a tightrope walker with a safety net - the net is there, but you don't want to actually have to use it.

Rock on!

i love you SB & Yiddle, :-* :-*

i think of you all the time,

now i feel pretty better, yesterday evening in tfilas arvis i prayed in very big kavana tell hashem, please G-d return me to the normal, i don't want to fall.

64 days clean.

i hope those slips and the desire belongs to the history.

i walk in the train and in the train stations whitout my glasses and my head is down.

thank you my best friends!
