

Still Raging Against The Machine

Posted by Cry2Tatty - 30 Nov 2009 01:17

so thats pretty much the deal...i showed up here one day by accident and saw something weird...here were all these jews that where putting up a genuine resistance to the evil empire that is lust...in all my wanderings ive seen some crazy crap but something like this? not at all...i saw two dozen frum blogs but alas, they too were contaminated by the lust assault..poor figures...nothing more than drones following the creed that larry flynt recieved himself on Mount Sinai...disguised as frum sites but nothing of the sort, really....did i find any voices that said, "look, this sh aint right..."...probably but a quick peruse through and i discovered that they were either out of touch with reality or just plain silly...and then i bumped into this site...and here was real and GENUINE and honest solutions....so i came...i looked around...marveled at all the flakes that took up residency here....

well, im now on at least 20 days of no pr0n and no bating...which is a miracle...its been years and years before i came here that i wasnt able to pull 5 days together and many many months where i stopped even trying....i dont know what happened but the group support and the genuineness of the good folks here and hearing their experiences and lo and behold i am a changed man...

the changes were not only in me but perhaps even greater in the people around me...no longer driven by lust i saw people (WIFE) in a new light and the changes in the way we relate to each other was quick and vast....this is perhaps what i owe GYE the most for....

i dont take myself too seriously and i hope you dont either....

And Momo, I love you right back for it - Wish I could give you a bear hug right now. OK, that's it, I'm reinstating an old minhag of mine (new for GYE, though) - I'm going to be using my own emoticons when the available ones do not fill my needs.

(Bear hug emoticon)

it is a real picture of a monk practicing self-immolation...kinda like me....

How many times do they get to "practice" self-immolation?

im having a problem finding my footing...

When the ground is collapsing all around you, ignore your footing and try grabbing above you.

They tell a story of R' Meir of Premishlan. As an old man he used to walk up and down a slippery, icy mountain in middle of the winter, to immerse in the stream. A band of mockers once made light of his daily trip and decided to try and imitate him. But as soon as they tried to climb the mountain, they all came sliding and crashing down. When Reb Meir heard about this he said "when a person is tied above, he doesn't slip down below".

The pasuk says: "Gibor Lo Yinatzel Berov Koach... hinei ein Hashem el Yirei'av, la'miyachalim lechasdo - The strong man will not be saved through strength... Behold the eye of Hashem are to those who fear him and hope to his kindness". One meaning of this could be that Hashem doesn't give success to STRONG people who can overcome the Yetzer hara even when it is very difficult. Hashem has enough "strong" Malachim in Shamayim. As a matter of fact, if a person thinks he is strong enough to withstand any test, Hashem may purposefully test him and bring him to fall just to show him that he is not as strong as he thinks. Instead, Hashem wants only "fear of heaven" and "hoping to him" for help.

Rage, see this article. You proved to yourself that you can get to about 120 days! The fall was nothing... The changes you made to your brain in those 120 days are not lost. They ingrained a new pattern. As long as you get back up from this fall and don't spiral back into the old pattern, the change you made will stay - and grow.

We love you man. Be strong.

oh, rage, what am i supposed to say?

really.

now you're gonna go back up, up, up.

and you're gonna tell me what day you fell so i can go up too i actually slipped really really bad on friday, and i thought it was a fall so going back down to one isn't gonna be so bad rage, i wish so so badly you knew what you did for me... you literally picked me up out of a dumpster, shook off the garbage, and helped me live. can i say thank you again?
