

FIGHTING progress!

Hi,

Ok so i guess ill make this my personal progress thread.. When I cross the finish line i'll throw a huge party :D

[if you are interested, for some peculiar reason, in "what i am all about, the short version"-check out the following [url=<https://www.guardyoureyes.com/forum/19-Introduce-Yourself/321628-Im-fighting-the-drug>]hyperlink[/url] :D]

Im almost a month clean now, with the help of god and gye 90 days chart and chizuk emails, which for myself i find almost impossible to believe.

At the beginning it was hard beyond belief, especially the first 2 days when i didn't yet have a filter for my phone, and in which god helped me and sent a lot of friends to be around so i had a lot to do and forgot sometimes even for a few hours about porn.

It becomes easier with the time passing but now i find myself in a new trouble. Girls turn me on too much. I just have to see a girl or seat next to one and immediately i feel an urge to look, talk and flirt with her (i didn't have that in the past, even though i had a lot more occasional chats). I start to think about my exGF too much and how "good" it was (even though looking back with clear eyes it wasn't).

Im aware of that its just me moving to the next level of 'Bchira' but still this 'nisayon' is a bit new to me and i have difficulties to deal with it.

Any suggestions?

what sort of training?

brain training. same way as they teach at martial arts: each time you give up-you are more likely to give up again. each time you stand your ground-more likely you'll do so the next time.

[as far as i know the brain works the next way: you get an impulse (i want a cookie!), you make a choice (take the cookie/leave it/go to the gym instead). next time you get pushed by the same impulse, you already have an inclination to choose the same as last time/times. so each time you make a choice you train your brain, forming a neurological pattern (which basically means the road you take from point A impulse to point B scaling and point C choice).]

that's conditioning

that might work if you are not an addict its working. that means one of two things, i must assume:

1. i am not an addict.
2. its not working.

non of them seems true to me.

which leads me to the next question: what is you definition of an addict?

there's a third possibility, namely that you are not talking about conditioning but something slightly different, and you left out some seemingly minor detail addiction is when your brain is positive that eventually you must act out, whether in ten minutes or ten years, as a result of a trigger people like that don't get better with just simple conditioning Meaning?

Thank you. can addicts of this category can be cured thoroughly?

Meaning something you've been doing as part of the training but you don't realize you are doing it because it seems unimportant, only you would know what it might be.

As far as I know there is no cure. It's not like a phobia, where exposure to the thing you are afraid will dispel the phobia forever.

There are treatments, which are really cultural changes (in response to A always do B,) but no cure.

Not sure what the word "cured" means, but can one live life again? Unequivocally yes!

I just finished reading your thread. It was very inspiring for me. Just knowing that someone has done the 90 days and seeing your progress from the beginning to the end is incredible. Thank

mzl. Or maybe I should better say not-mzl :) I used to think back when I was regularly mzl that it would be impossible for me to stop completely and that I will necessarily fall even if try to stop. And that's exactly what happened. Every time. When I got to gye that view changed. So maybe that's why the conditioning is working for me.so if a person can reach this state of mind-he can probably be called cured.. at least according to your description of an addict. (I would describe it a bit differently though) codnoy-for sure! (you saw what I meant by cured in the first part here). And btw. What would you say is the right way to describe an addict?

JoyOfLife-thank you! I am happy someone can benefit from my personal struggles, I wish you success and the happiness and clarity that comes with staying sober. Its absolutely worth the journey, and as you can see-absolutely possible.

and the zoro thing brings back some memories :D

Ok so i guess ill make this my personal progress thread.

I just wanna share what happened to me 2 days ago, i wrote it down almost immediately so everything is in present tense.

Hi.

I woke up this morning with the thought of "why, for crying out loud, am i doing this? Why should i stop watching whatever i feel like watching, why should i force myself into a life of a martyr? Am i not a human? Why whould i deny myself the pleasure of pleasing myself and taking even just for a few seconds my troubles away? Why did i stop using?"

Aside from God, torah and mitzvos, i suddenly remembered something else, and thats what gave me the strength to hold my horses for a moment. I remembered 'one piece' cartoon series and the great swords-man Roronoa Zoro.

[For those who isn't familiar with the series, i won't recommend it. Its a long and time consuming saga with too little good content to learn from. But for those who did watch it, i think it may give some chizuk and yeah, sometimes cartoons can teach us a good thing or two :] Actually anything we experience is there for a reason (since we have Hashgacha Pratit).]

So Zoro's character is definitely the strongest among all the super powered heroes that showing up there by the dozens. Yes, he is just a man, but what makes him the strongest is his resolve. It doesn't matter how hopeless his cause would seem, no matter how many times he falls or how many wounds he would receive, he would stubbornly go on, become stronger, fight harder, and eventually win. You cant beat a man like that. I definitely wish i had a willpower like that.

And so i thought, still half asleep "it doesn't matter that right now my cause seems so stupid, hopeless, idiotic and frustratingly frustrating to me. I dont care. I DONT CARE!!! If i decided, I will go on. I wont give in. I will not break my resolve, because thats who i wanna be. A fighter." thats what i thought, and B"H, the lust attack passed in a few moments. I won this time.

My moto from now on is: never give up. Never stop fighting, whatever is your way, whatever tools you have to use, Head on or under and over it, Hashem is with us. He gives us power. He won't leave us, and eventually we WILL become the MASTERS of the yetzer hara. We will prevail!

Be like zoro :]

!!!!FIGHT!!!!

29 days clean, and counting.

The vort can be found in certain mystical sefarim. For your convenience I will do better than posting a link - I'll quote it for you. It was in the beginning of the thread fyi.

I was caught off guard. I screwed up. Masturbated. Ugh. Knock down to the fighter at the red corner.

Starting again.
