

On my way...

Posted by benblum - 02 Nov 2017 22:31

Hi Everybody,

I have been on GYE for a few years. Never made it to the 90 days. Made some progress but I am still standing despite my many falls. Today, I am 3 days clean (I know not great but I have to start somewhere right?). I decide to post a message everyday until I reach the 90 days. If I have a lust attack, I will come to this post for help and I hope I can count on you guys!!! Even if my fight is still fragile, I want to take the opportunity to say that GYE is an AMAZING place! I was looking for such a place for many many years! Be ezrat Hashem, I will make it!!! To be continued

Ben

I understand. So what are my options for real connection especially if there are no meeting close to me?

I'm gonna go out on a limb here and say that there are indeed meetings close to you, and even closer than the 70 minutes I needed to travel each way when I attended meetings.

But perhaps I'm wrong; it has happened before.

Start by chatting with people in the chat rooms here (guardyoureyes.com/tools/chat-rooms). Once you find a connection to someone that you would want to speak with just ask them if you can call/text/email them.

All the best,

G4L

Chat room shows Cordnoy. He's not usually there.

Generally the forum is less of a black hole than the chatroom and is easier to know who you're connecting with.

Thats how I have my call / text / email contacts ;-)
