what I've realized is that writing out my thoughts and how I was feeling and what I need to do etc really helped me. But like everything good the satan always tries to get you to stop... so it's time to hit back. Bh I will write every day on this forum with the hope that being connected to this forum I will not stop writing and connecting.

I was answering DavidT, but thanks!

Update on my situation:

I fell that night and the nest two. But yesterday and today I was clean, and I intend to end today clean (it's 12 AM now, be"h). I got GenTech on my computer today. But I realized that only blocks the internet, not my computer. There are apps out there that porn is accessible on, for example, Telegram. Do you know of anything that'll deal with that? I want to fix this before it's too late...

Anyway, thank you all for answering me. I will sign on tomorrow with good news about tonight, be"h.

Ok great!

Waiting for the good news!

Btw I sent you a PM the other day...looks like you didn't see it, do you know where to find it?

I checked my chats but, I didn't see anything. Where can I find it?

Also, if you use the 'quote' button (like I just did) it will make it easier for everyone to know who you are talking to...

I thought that the reply button does that, but I figured out my mistake.

If you are on a phone; then on the left side towards the top of the screen you'll see like 3 lines for a pull out menu, there towards the top you'll see the option for 'private messages'.

On a computer I forgot, but look around for Private messages.

Maybe someone could explain where...?

On top of the page where you are looking at this post right now, you should see it too
