

Elul-new start

Posted by Eish Emes - 01 Sep 2019 04:05

---

I'm not sure if I'm ready to post my full story here or in another post. But, I have a long history with this battle. Started with porn since I'm 13 and I'm now 37. At one point I was very involved in SA and had over a year of sobriety. But, I stopped finding it helpful. I eventually got back in to porn and the past two years got in to worst things. It's Elul and I'm ready to start working on it again and take the 90 day challenge one day, one hour, one minute at a time. I've been clean since Friday.

=====
=====

Re: Elul-new start

Posted by Captain - 01 Sep 2019 04:26

---

I admire your resolve. Elul is a great time to start! I'm looking forward to hearing about your success!

It's also important to put yourself in the right mindset before you are challenged. Why don't you try reading a couple of pages a day from this ebook: <https://guardyoureyes.com/ebooks/item/the-battle-of-the-generation>? It strikes a great balance between helping the reader not feel down and helping him get moving in the right direction. It's encouraging, practical, and guilt-trip free too!

Also, it's healthy and helpful to focus on growing in other areas too. Why don't you try listening to some lectures from Rabbi Ben Zion Shafier? He has uplifting speeches on a variety of topics .)

Changed my life and many others' too. (And he also has a great series about tayva called The Fight. Check that out too.)

We're rooting for you and wishing you great success!

=====
=====

Re: Elul-new start

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 01 Sep 2019 05:10

---

---

=====

=====
Wow a blast from the past! Welcome back!
Re: Elul-new start
Posted by Eish Emes - 02 Sep 2019 03:07

---

Thanks Gevra. It's nice to be back.

=====

=====

Re: Elul-new start
Posted by Eish Emes - 02 Sep 2019 03:22

---

So technically it's day 3, but the other 2 days were Friday and Shabbos... which are days that I don't usually act out anyway. Today started the real challenge. Earlier today I was feeling down and frustrated about something and my natural reaction is to want turn to lust to feel better. I needed to remind myself p and m only provides temporary relief if that and the thing that was bothering will still be there afterwards. I meditated tonight and felt good afterwards. I really should make that a part of my regular practice.

=====

=====

Re: Elul-new start
Posted by Markz - 02 Sep 2019 14:49

---

Hey Emes,

Nice to have you back

What happened with your good ol' Therapist?

=====

=====

Re: Elul-new start

Posted by Eish Emes - 02 Sep 2019 15:22

---

Markz wrote on 02 Sep 2019 14:49:

Hey Emes,

Nice to have you back

What happened with your good ol' Therapist?

Wow! I didn't realize people still remembered me from back then . I stopped therapy 4 years ago because I was in a good place ( over a year "sober") and felt I was ready to move on. Then a lot of things happened in my life and my old habits crept in slowly. I've actually just just restarted therapy.

=====

Re: Elul-new start

Posted by Eish Emes - 03 Sep 2019 02:40

---

Day 4- made it more than half way past a week. I'm feeling inspired today. I've been in this game long enough to know inspiration comes and goes. But, it's been a while I've felt this way and I want to take advantage while it's here. I know I need to take steps that will have long lasting impact. The first thing I just did was delete a number that needed to be deleted. The next step I need to take is set-up an appointment with TAG to install a strong filter for my phone.

=====

Re: Elul-new start

Posted by Eish Emes - 04 Sep 2019 02:36

---

5 days. I'm exhausted and have been going to bed too late. I've learnt in the past getting enough sleep is important for my recovery. So I'm going to bed on time tonight. I also feel it is important to keep up with these check ins, even if it's short.

=====

=====

Re: Elul-new start

Posted by David26fr - 04 Sep 2019 07:35

---

Cheers for your new resolution !

=====

=====

Re: Elul-new start

Posted by Eish Emes - 06 Sep 2019 02:02

---

I've made it to a week! B"H whatever ever reason I did not find it challenging. Of course I had momentary thoughts and I've taken second looks, but I did not have strong urges or triggers. I have to take this gift from Hashem and keep on going day to day.

I did try contacting my local TAG division to set up filters. Either there is something wrong with their scheduling system or there's not a single appointment available for the next 3 months. I'm going to look it that more or find an alternative. I know it is absolutely critical I have strong filters on my devices and I'm not going to give up.

Keep the good work, and remember : one moment at a time, and to stay vigilant but not afraid

=====

=====

Re: Elul-new start

Posted by Markz - 06 Sep 2019 03:19

---

OPEN LETTER TO TAG:

Dear Tag. I've been trying to catch you recently. It seems you're really it. Please don't do "time out." now, be fair

=====

=====

Re: Elul-new start

Posted by Eish Emes - 09 Sep 2019 02:32

---

10 days, double digits! B"H still going. I had moments of frustration today, where things didn't go the way I would like and for a split second as if it's a reflex I had thoughts maybe p and m will help. But B"H they were very momentary thoughts.

=====

=====

Re: Elul-new start

Posted by 613torah - 09 Sep 2019 04:23

---

10 days is great!

keep it up and keep us posted.

we are rooting for you.

=====

=====

Re: Elul-new start

Posted by Eish Emes - 13 Sep 2019 03:16

---

I made it to 2 weeks!

I've started reaching out and make connections with other people. It is important I do that. A conversation with someone in this community made me realize there's a part of me that doesn't want to give up some things. This is a process, but I know there are things I need to give up to overcome this struggle. Such as the freedom to have access to internet any time I want. I'm sure there is more.

=====

=====