

This time I'm going to do it

Posted by TYH18 - 27 Apr 2020 05:31

I've been struggling for years. I've been on GYE for a little while but no matter how much I tried to do the 90 day challenge I keep on falling. I am now officially starting a week challenge for myself... Wish me luck

Building the streak, that's great.

But maybe it's time to focus on building your Self?

Are you happy?

What is your situation? Do u have filters? Are you still in Shiduchim?

Speak to us. We don't just want to hear about streaks.

Streaks are just numbers.

We want to hear about YOU!!!

Keeping strong will be easier if you hang around here more, posting and reading the stories of others. Our strength is in our numbers...

"is it true that every small effort is a separate accomplishment?" you might wonder. "And if I end up giving in, does it really matter how many times I tried to stop myself?"

In his introduction to Sefer Shemiras Halashon, the Chofetz Chaim relates that the Vilna Gaon would quote a Midrash that says, "For every second a person holds himself back from forbidden speech, he merits a pleasure that no creature or angel can fathom." The Chofetz Chaim notes that the Midrash does not say every month, week, day, or even minute. It says every second!

That is the reward granted for withholding from doing any aveirah when challenged. Each instant is a separate mitzvah! Every second we control ourselves is so precious — even if we give in to the same desire moments later — because that second of effort is a victory in itself! It's an act of listening to Hashem. Now imagine what we will accomplish once we gain control over ourselves. We will rack up accomplishments at an astounding rate!

Celebrating our victories will give us the determination we need to stand up to the yetzer hara the next time he challenges us. We will have the strength to pump our fist once again and confidently declare, "I am not giving in! I want to win, and I will!" This determination will grant us the strength to overcome challenges that would otherwise be overwhelming.
