I desided to slow down a bit, instead of focusing on the whole 90 days till Rosh Hashana. I'll focus on one day at a time

Preparing my self for this weeks Shabbes to be clean.

i was just thinking about last weeks Parsha shlach (this week in Golus)

it starts and ends with something in common

 ?????????? ?????????? ?????? ?????? ?????? ?????? ?????????? ?????????? ??????????

???

{??} ???????? ?????? ?????????? ???????????? ?????? ?????????????? ?????????????????? '?'
?????????????? ?????? ?????????? ??????? ?????????? ?????????? ??????????????
????????????????? ??????? ???????????????

We find in Kohelt also the same word towards Chachma, i am not sure if it is as negative as this one.

I was wondering if $???$ can be also positive, and we have to choose the right one and not the wrong one.

any ideas?

Shabath Shalom

Shkoiach!! One day at a time is the secret. Should you feel like you need help, do reach out. Our addiction causes us to isolate, so the best medicine is to do the opposite.

Keep us posted

Yes... Remember, addiction is a prison built on secrets, lies, shame, and isolation. Every time you open up to someone in honesty and love you are breaking down another chunk of those walls. Keep at it until you are free and there is nothing but a pile of rubble behind you.

SHALOM everybody

a month ago I came back after a few years

I restarted counting 90 days, long goal is to be clean for Rosh Hashana.

short goals, i took every day at a time.

The reason i wasent posting here every day i was too busy with getting my self on track

I must thank a few people one I cant remember his user name but D. from L. if you remever to privet chat we had about 3 weeks ago, thank you so much you made me relise that my problem is way deeper then most people around here.

which led to a phone call to Menachem from GYE thank you for your advice to speak to Dov.

Thanks Dov I hate you for telling me the truth in my face, but i guess it most of happen one way or another.

which led me to make an apointment with a psycologist to get some therapy.

in the meantime I started to go to SA.

The reason why I write you all this, because I relised I need help and I cant help my self alone so I did everything in my power to get help. The problem I have in a few words I am a happy married man that fall in love with another girl. Enough said for now

If there is a will there is a way.
