

There must be a way

Posted by starting - 21 Jul 2020 05:34

The y'h gave me a new line of thought today: stopping cold turkey is not for me. I'll forever feel like I'm missing out and I'll get depressed. I should really make my streaks go a bit longer each time.

This is after trying to stop for well over 10 years. How crazy is that?

?I now see even more clearly how he has powers of manipulation that we cannot fathom

Doing it for my good of course. I shouldn't always feel like I'm missing out

The creep

I hereby start my journey to purity

The reason I have not officially done this yet is because I feel that the order of the forum is cleverly designed. I first introduced myself. Then I started a log of trying to break free (this actually in the marrieds section as it's a bit along those lines)

I did not in any way have the strength to attempt a 90. But now I think that the time is ripe. Even if it takes a few tries.

Day 18 (BTW it's my first time at day 18 in my life)

Hatzlacha guys

70 days!!

OR 10 weeks as grant would put it in my name.

Amazing!

To think that just 10 weeks ago I seeing 10 days as near impossible, having rarely held a 10 day streak, b"h I learned of a different perspective about 8 weeks ago.

It's not about days or weeks, it's about me.

Me as in a guy who acts differently. I don't need it, I won't do it.

B"h it's gotten easier and I'm quite careful with avoiding triggers so on to day 71...

I still get these urges to fall.

When will He just leave me alone? When will He just accept that I will not do it? Just stop trying me out.

HHM taught me to view it like robbing a bank. Would love to (very useful) but even if the idea would come up in the back of mind, it would not present itself as an idea, just as a faraway notion, a fantasy.

A fall is the same. Not a valid idea but it is a motion that comes up in the back of my mind. Not as something to do but as something that would be pleasant thing in a way, although definitely not worth it.

So why would He bring up the notion so often? How about once a year, like the bank idea?

When will He finally realise and accept that I don't do this?

Anyway, I don't really have the emotional energy to write much these days, what with very stressful things going on in my life, but I want to thank everyone who is contributing to the forums, I am getting a lot of chizzuk, there are some really important and inspirational posts

I presume that you think of falling more often then robbing a bank because you've never robbed a bank before. It's a good perspective to have, but realistically falling has been an option for you in the past. Eventually, as time goes on, it will be less of an option.

Wow! Mazel tov. It's such a good feeling to be truly happy for someone else's freedom, all the more so for someone who I don't even know. I think it may be because i relate to your struggles. Iv'e also been battling for over 10 years or so, as you wrote in your first post!

Wishing you continued Hatzlocho, ur no longer Starting, ur continuing.

A brief summary of my current situation

I joined gye about 9 months ago.

I hit 90 on Thursday.

There is no magic. No automatic transformation. But there is definitely a feeling of being ready to battle this forever.

Most of all, the support I get from you guys, the feeling of 'some people seem genuinely happy for me. That I am becoming a better person' that gives me such a boost. And you guys especially gave that feeling more than ever this week. Thank you.

It was a long journey. Many trials and triumphs. But at some point it hit me that it's over. I'm a different guy. I am a fighter.

Baruch Hashem, I think (hope?) that the yetzer hora is starting to see this because he's taking a step back. Like, He mostly tries to convince me to do 'smaller' things like to touch myself. BTW I only stopped touching myself at around day 40. But the Yetzer Hora and I both know that, chances are, the day I touch myself will be the beginning of the end. I will either fall that day or in the following days.

That, I believe, is huge.

Yes, I know that I would really enjoy masturbation. But I would probably also enjoy bacon. So it's still a struggle. A hard one sometimes. But it's more in the mind. Like, I remind myself that it's out of the question. Let the urge float away/distract myself, don't dwell on it, certainly don't fantasise and move on. So long as I don't touch, the nisayon stays quite removed from my reality. So that is my main struggle.

But actually falling is not for me. Tough. Not doing it.

And I think that hitting 90 was just another way to tell him 'one step more removed. Don't ask me again'.
