

Overcoming challenges

Posted by Zedj - 18 Oct 2020 06:22

I've been struggling with porn for more then a few years. Whenever I thought I could stop, somehow or another I found myself right back at square one.

I really hope with the help of hashem that I can overcome my challenge

I forget the source for what I'm about to say but I remember hearing that if someone sees that he has a challenge in fulfilling a certain mitzvah then he knows it's one of the missions he was brought into the world for and the fact he has this challenge shows he can overcome it.

It seems like this generation has been given a challenge like no other but the fact we have the challenge means we have the power to overcome it.

For that reason I am sharing my journey and hope I can overcome my own personal challenge and maybe help another.

I don't know how many times I will update my journey but I plan to make it more of a personal diary.

Feel free to comment

a quick update:

Motzie shabbos was a spiral down.

BH Im still on track and will be pushing forward with some changes.

What happened: for sme reason I was very triggered over shabbos and just wasn't leaving me alone fantasy after fantasy then random desires ect ect.

motzie shabbos I decided I would watch on youtube parts of a comedy show to relax.. slowly the spiral started and I did not watch the most kosher inyanim in the world..maybe not even that bad but still detrimental to the cause.

After speaking with a very chushuv GYE member I'm still on track moving forward:

@anothershot, little beknowest to you, you inspired me to take the leap to block youtube from

Although the things on youtube is definitely a far cry from the thrill of porn but after awhile of not using (BH) I guess I'm alot more sensitive to the slightest things.

I know others mentioned the same idea but it didn't fully register...I had to experience it and understand it myself.

To be clean means willing to change...I guess I'll have to find some new hobbies ˘_ (?) _/

I think I understand this now, so youtube is out of reach for me...just for now.

(I don't mean to say youtube is OKAY... obviously I know it can get really bad... probably worse then people think. Im just trying to bring out the point that the smallest things can be a trigger as is evident from my experience)

YouTube has been the doorway to falling for too many guys. Someone will have a big zchus when he develops a similar site that is simply kosher from shmutz and apikorsus. Anyone out there?

BH today went well.

Had some nasty fantasy envelope me earlier today (who am I fooling?...it was amazing)

BH it was only momentarily and successfully distracted myself.

?I Don't have access to social media nor to youtube

however I still find myself constantly looking for activity or action.

it's either GYE constantly refreshing the page

Or checking whatsapp or news sites waiting for the next "big" bombshell.

What concerns me more is even when I put my phone on zen mode (only calls are allowed during the down time) for a certain amount of time I still find myself subconsciously picking up my phone multiple times.

Would this be considered an internet addiction? Bad habit? Both?

any suggestions?

There is a site called Gruntig that posts all the Jewish music videos etc that are posted on Youtube and Vimeo He also includes some interesting videos from Youtube such as news stories that affect us or funny animal videos. When he posts political or news videos,he does a pretty good job blocking out any one not dressed appropriately. This can be great alternative to Youtube.

Two points of caution: This is ideal for someone that would otherwise be on Youtube etc. if you would be learning,working or spending time with family then this site could be a big time waster. In addition,and this is really very important...You can access youtube directly by clicking on a video on this site. Therefore it extremely important to only use this site with a filter that will allow you to see the videos on gruntig but not access the actual Youtube site. I believe all the popular filters are able to do this.

Hatzlocha!

It's a bad habit. For the sake of your future shalom bayis/focus on family iyh, try to slowly lessen your dependency on technology to feel fulfilled. A good jog or basketball game will do much more for your "thrill need" in a healthy manner.

I too suffer from this. I believe there is good news and bad news for us. The bad news is that this definitely seems like signs of a technology/phone addiction. The good news is that we seem to be experiencing withdrawal symptoms (having those subconscious impulses to look at our phones)- this means that we are on our way to recovery!

The difference between this addiction vs let's say a drug addiction is that it is nearly impossible to function in modern society without having access to a phone. We need it to contact people, navigate places, and to an extent research things.

So, obviously, even though we're trying to recover from this addiction, "relapse" is imminent because we're going to need our phones/computers eventually.

Basically, I don't have the solution for you (because let's face it, if i did, I would not be on this site). However, I'm here to say you're not alone in this. Also let's be real, going to GYE or whatsapp when you have the impulse to look at something is far better than the "alternative"...

111 days clean

Everyday I'm clean I rejoice!

Really!

I don't think I thank Hashem enough for his kindness of giving me the strength to overcome the daily challenges

(yes...as some wise man said "even with a filter the yetzer hora won't go away")

Thank you to the wonderful chevra here!

Wishing you all well

Wow absolutely incredible- superhuman almost!

You make a good point about thanking Hashem. Even though He's the one who gave us the nisayon, He also gave us the kochos to overcome it. The more we thank Him, the more He will provide us with kochos.

111 !!! beyond amazing!

Thanking Hashem brings salvation. I once saw the following explanation of a pasuk in Tehilim, "???? ??" ????– we are to thank Hashem for His kindness – ?????????? ???? ??? – and then He will bring wonders and miracles to us afterward."

@DavidT Thank you. I will keep this in mind!

The fact I'm here and clean..to me is a personal miracle!

Now I'm home. I prefer to call it "the lions den".

The night before my flight I made a contract that includes "not to go on an unfiltered device unless it's in absolute view of others or if noone is there I must text a certain gye member before use"

So far this has been very helpful and keeping me inline.

Thankfully I've been kept busy cleaning BH.

I hope I stay busy..

Wishing you all well
